St. Louis Girl Tells of Dance With Prince of Wales

PRINCE ONE WONDERFUL BOY, SAYS PARTNER

Lenore Cahill Only American Honored by Heir to British Throne

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, and the most popular member of European royalty, reached New York this afternoon. A big fleet of small boats swarmed about the Cunard liner "Beren-garia" as she dropped anchor at Quarantine. The prince, standing upon the bridge, waved his hand in answer to the ovation from the other craft.

ON BOARD THE LINER BERENGARIA, Aug. 29.—Miss Lenore Cahill of St. Louis, the only American girl on the Berengaria with whom the Prince of Wales danced, revealed today that she did not know that the bachelor heir to the British throne was to be a fellow voyager when she booked passage on this vessel. "As a matter of fact," said Miss Cahill, "my aunt (Mrs. W. P. Brown of New Orleans) did everything possible to avoid taking this ship because we crossed on her last summer and wanted to go home on the Majestic."

Visited in Scotland "We had been in Scotland for the past few months and wanted to go to France to visit a certain little town where we have a sentimental interest. We wanted the extra time from the Berengaria's sailing until the Majestic's Wednesday sailing from the Southampton to make this cross-channel journey."

"But we could not get decent accommodations on the Majestic and at the last minute decided to go on the Berengaria. Once on board, of course, it was quickly discovered that the Prince of Wales was there and I admit that I got a thrill right away."

Miss Cahill danced with General Trotter, a member of the prince's party, who asked her if she wished to be presented to the Prince of Wales. An introduction followed and then the dancing. Asked for her opinion of the royal heir as a dancer, Miss Cahill replied:

"I think he is the most wonderful boy in the whole world, and as a dancer he lives up to my loftiest ideals of him."

Mors' Jewels Found in M'Coy's Deposit Box

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Valuable jewelry, which was the property of Mrs. Teresa Mors, whom "Kid" McCoy is accused of having murdered, was discovered in McCoy's safety deposit box, together with other evidence in the case.

The box was opened by Detective Lieutenant Ed L. King of the district attorney's office, who is collecting evidence against McCoy. Albert A. Mors, former husband of the dead woman and administrator of her estate, Mors' attorney and federal officers searching for jewels, said to be smuggled.

Standard Plans Test on Baldwin Ranch

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—The Standard Oil company of California has leased a tract in the Baldwin hills near here, and will start development at once, spudding in the first well within thirty days.

WATCH FOR CORPSE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Police here today watching for the city's outfall sewer, following report to them by Mrs. Annie Brown that she had seen a group of men drop a body into a man hole. The woman said the men threw the body from an automobile and then disappeared.

Farmers of Nation Facing Permanent Prosperity, Claim

By OWEN L. SCOTT
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Sound and prosperous conditions are returning to agriculture to stay, according to members of the American Association of Joint Stock Land Banks now here. These bankers, whose institutions have a billion and a half dollars loaned to farmers, with the land of the latter as security, all see a movement toward a permanent revival instead of a fleeting revival of prosperity.

Guy Huston, president of the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank, declared today the corn belt was in for exceptional prosperity, owing to the world demand.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC SHOWS BIG GAINS

Railroads Prepare to Move Crops; Operating Costs Are Reduced

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Larger earnings for the railroads are in immediate prospect. During mid-summer, freight traffic took an undoubted drop with consequent effect on gross revenues but the busiest time of the year now is setting under way and the seasonal tendency upward seems likely to be augmented by crop movements, transportation of coal and the general revival of industrial activity, which always presages an increase in freight shipments.

Railroads now have an ample surplus of locomotives and freight cars in repair to care for any expansion of traffic that may be expected. The betterment of business for the carriers will be multiplied by the fact that it will be accompanied by lower operating costs in some departments. This increase of efficiency has been especially marked in the average number of cars moved in each freight train and the heavier loading of each car.

Latest figures available show that an average of over forty-two cars are being moved in each freight train of the main carriers of the country, while the records of some individual roads show an average of above forty-eight cars per train. These figures compare with a general average of 36.6 cars in 1920 and 39.9 in 1923.

Cuts Operating Cost Even a small increase in each railroad means a saving of many millions in operating expenses as can be judged from the fact that if the roads had handled only the same number of cars per train this year as in 1923 they would have had to run those trains nearly 14,000,000 more miles than they did to handle the business. It is estimated that the difference in the number of cars per train in 1924 over 1914 will result in a saving of $300,000,000 as compared with the expenses of the latter year.

LOYAL TO GLENDALE

Now, as the fall season approaches and many of Glendale's citizens are returning from their summer vacation, business generally begins to pick up.

Today's columns of The Glendale Evening News are indicative of life and real business pep. Note the display advertising columns—how completely the various lines of merchandise here are represented. The classified columns, too, show renewed activity in the realty market.

Give a moment's attention to the solid pages of bargains, nothing better anywhere!

The Glendale Evening News is a REAL metropolitan daily newspaper, worthy of a city ten times the size. It is practically Glendale's only daily paper not being in any way connected with or controlled by an outside publication. It is that kind of a paper the rank and file of the people want, and it is that kind of a paper that is building Glendale.

The best newspaper men in the land who have had placed before them copies of The Glendale Evening News declare it is a model publication—just what the people of Glendale say, because—

It is a newspaper 100 per cent loyal to Glendale and Glendale is 100 per cent loyal to The Evening News.

FOREIGN AID ASKED AT SHANGHAI

Chinese Commerce Chamber Wants Impending Civil War Squelched

PEKING, Aug. 29.—The United States, Great Britain, France and Japan today joined in a "four-power" note to the Chinese government advising that the Peking regime will be held responsible for all foreign losses in the civil war that appears imminent.

By BERT KUHN
For International News Service.
SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—Foreign intervention to stop the impending civil war between rival Chinese factions for control of the Shanghai district in which is located one of the largest foreign settlements in China, was asked today by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. Such intervention, however, was considered unlikely by foreign observers here.

The opposing lines of the Kiangsu and Chekiang forces are now drawn up in the vicinity of Quinsan and Soochow, only a few miles apart. It is estimated that the Kiangsu army now totals 65,000 and the Chekiang force numbers almost as many.

Impress Women in Service According to report brought in by the steady stream of refugees now pouring into Shanghai, the Kiangsu forces are impressing women as well as men at Soochow as coolies to carry military munitions and supplies to the front. Mobilization of all military resources of the two provinces is proceeding as rapidly as possible. Shanghai remains orderly, but business has been hard hit.

Tuchun Chih Sieh Yuan of Kiangsu provinces has issued a statement that war is inevitable unless Chekiang gives up control of the Chekiang district.

Guard's Arrest Foils Jail Delivery Plot

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Harry Holtgraver, 33, a guard at the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary, was arrested today when he reported at the prison for duty, and twelve saws found on his person were confiscated, according to Lieutenant John Lobg.

Holtgraver's arrest, authorities said, has frustrated another plot to liberate a number of prisoners. He is to be questioned in connection with the outbreak last spring when a thousand convicts were thrown into a panic by a series of dynamite explosions in the prison yard and two guards fatally shot.

S. P. Asks to Assume Liability for Bonds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The Southern Pacific railroad applied to the Interstate Commerce commission today for authority to assume liability for $185,000 of bonds of the Los Angeles Public Market company.

Shows Psychic Powers

MRS. LE ROI CRANDON, wife of a Harvard surgeon, has won the belief of scientific men in her powers as a medium, through a long series of tests.

The Medium's Control Is Her Departed Brother, Called Chester. Not Only Was The Downstairs Vehicle Thus Manifested, In Plain View Of All, But The Grandfather's Clock On The Stairs, Was Shipped And Started.

Fail to Find Any Trace of Fraud In Seance, Is Savants' Claim

By MARGERY PICKARD
Central Press Association Correspondence

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Science, as represented by a particular group investigating psychic phenomena, is beginning to believe that there may be something in spiritualism after all. The reason is the marvelous psychic powers displayed by Mrs. Le Roi Crandon, wife of a noted surgeon and professor in Harvard Medical school. Investigators have watched her at twenty-five sittings without discovering any trace of fraud in her manifestations, including the spontaneous appearance of a great variety of lights, the apparent passing of a window pole through the arms and legs of the investigators, the wrecking of cabinets by unseen hands, the playing of invisible musical instruments by invisible hands.

All of Mrs. Crandon's seances are private and uncommercial and for a long time she refused to allow her name to be divulged, being content to be referred to merely as "Margery."

May Get Prize J. Malcolm Bird, secretary of the Scientific American's committee on psychic investigation, says the possibility of her winning the $2500 prize offered for proof of genuine psychic phenomena seems not to be remote.

She is the first medium to come to the committee's attention who isn't suspected of trickery.

The medium's control is her departed brother, called "Chester," who claims to have a large crew of disembodied personalities at his disposal and a great collection of invisible and intangible psychic apparatus, which he uses for rapping, talking, juggling, whistling, petting, moving heavy objects, producing psychic photographs, playing phonographs, the striking of non-existent clocks and playing "Taps" on a psychic bugle.

"This followed a curious technique which I have met in no other circle," says Mr. Bird, telling of one seance held by Mrs. Crandon for the investigator.

"At some time during the seance, Chester would order the medium, alone or with some of the sitters, to go downstairs. He would give instructions just where each person was to go, with full details of their behavior, and he would outline what was to occur psychically. These announcements were usually made good, though default was experienced. Not only was the downstairs phonograph thus manipulated in plain view of all, the needle being swung into accurate place without visible physical means; but the grandfather's clock on the stairs, though locked and the key safeguarded, was stopped and started, and its chimes and gong omitted or suspended.

Baffling Lights "Sometimes several clocks would be stopped simultaneously or at hours chosen by the sitters."

EVENING NEWS STARTS CAMPAIGN TO GET OUT VOTE

The Glendale Evening News today is launching an educational campaign for the purpose of getting out a full vote at the November 4 election. The first step to be taken is to see that all eligible electors in this community are registered. Readers are requested to cooperate by calling the attention of their friends to the necessity for registering at once.

LEOPOLD, LOEB TO WRITE OWN 'COPY'

Youths Tell Reporters They Have Settled Down to Real Jail Life

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, "glad that the trial is over so we can settle down to real jail life," smilingly welcomed a new bevy of reporters at the county jail today, while Judge John R. Caverly sat in the seclusion of his home deliberating their fate.

The youthful slayers of Bobby Franks seemed not at all worried over whether they will hang or spend the rest of their lives behind the walls of Joliet penitentiary.

"Good morning, gentlemen. 'What'll it be today?' was Dicky Loeb's cheerful greeting to the reporters.

"I see we have new reporters on the job," said Leopold. "Where are the regulars?" He was told the most of them were on vacations, resting up from the trial.

"Get me their addresses, will you?" Leopold said. "I want to send them all a postcard. 'Having a fine time. Wish you were here.' I want Assistant State's Attorney John Elliot Byrne's address at Paw Paw Lake, Mich., too. I want to send him a card."

Will Write Story "Now that the trial is over," Loeb spoke up, "Leopold and I have decided to write your stories for you. We will hand them to you and you can read copy on them."

Judge Caverly, who will announce the boys' fate September 10, has made his isolation more secure while he goes through the 1900 pages of transcribed testimony, by the threat of immediate sentence for anyone who disturbs

DAWES PLAN PASSED BY GERMANY

Bill Ratified In Reichstag After Stormy Debates; Diplomats Cheer

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service.
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The Dawes reparation plan was ratified by the Reichstag today after stormy debate. The bills necessary to the execution of the plan all were passed.

The railroad bill, which needed a two-thirds majority vote because it changes the constitution, was enacted by 314 to 127 votes.

Dissolution of the Reichstag was avoided by a compromise reached between government leaders and the German nationalists, the chief enemies of the Dawes plan. The various bills were taken up and passed separately, not in a group.

Diplomats Cheer The "covering letter" measure accepting the London protocol was passed at 4:45 o'clock, after the Reichstag had enacted the Liquidation Renten mark bill.

As the Reichstag continued passing the various bills, foreign diplomats rose in the spectators' gallery and applauded, but were admonished by the president.

Capital Rejoices at Reports From Berlin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Extreme gratification was expressed today by President Coolidge and members of the cabinet when news of the ratification of the Dawes reparation plan by the German Reichstag was carried to the White House by International News Service.

The cabinet was engaged in an informal discussion of the reparation settlement when the news was received.

President Offers Homely Philosophy Of Life In Speech

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Summed up in four paragraphs President Coolidge today expressed the following homely philosophy of life in a speech before the World's Fraternal congress: "At times I have thought we do not place emphasis enough upon the homely virtues, to sufficiently appreciate the common blessings of life."

"The desire for advancement, the wish for something more ought not to make us unmindful of the place we now hold and the possession we now have. The spirit of contentment is one which is well worth cultivating."

"We Americans are constantly criticized for the eagerness with which we seek wealth and power. I doubt if we are any more avaricious and grasping than those of other nations, though I admit we possess the enthusiasm which makes us more successful."

"It seems perfectly apparent that the real satisfactions in life are not found in great possessions. We must necessarily come to the conclusion that we shall find the real satisfactions of life in some other direction."

COOLIDGE MAKES PLEA FOR FAITH

Practice of Homely Virtues In Golden Rule Needed, Says President

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Fresh from a two weeks' vacation among the Vermont hills, President Coolidge this afternoon sounded an appeal for the practice in America of the homely virtues of loyalty, common sense, faith and the golden rule, and went back to the Sermon on the Mount as most expressive of a definite standard of action for the promotion of human fellowship.

The president's speech, delivered to several hundred delegates to the National Fraternal congress of America, gathered about the south portico of the White House, contained no references to the political campaign, but dealt solely with the promotion of the welfare of humanity through the spirit of brotherhood and fraternity.

The political institutions of this country, the president declared, are the "recognition of a common brotherhood."

"From that principle," he said, "arises the right of freedom and equality. It is the basis for organized and harmonious effort under authority in our social, political and industrial life."

"Without the moving spirit of fraternity, of a common effort for

ATTORNEY IN AQUEDUCT WATER ROW BARTERS HIS LIFE

Secret Signal of Distress Saves Him From Bishop 'Necktie Party'

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Facing death for three hours as his sworn enemies and fraternal friends bartered for his life in a conflict of human emotions, L. C. Halsey, resident counsel for the Los Angeles board of public works at Bishop, returned to his home at 215 West Magnolia street, Glendale, this morning, haggard and hurt, having been choked, handcuffed and blindfolded, and threatened with death in the latest chapter of the Los Angeles aqueduct fight in Inyo county.

"They heaped no indignities upon me other than vilifications," he told the writer, "and they apologized for the injuries they inflicted after deciding to release me."

Attorney Halsey was interviewed as he was finishing a steaming plate of ham and eggs prepared by Mrs. Mary Balcom, a neighbor. His story of Wednesday night's events in the Owens river valley town of Bishop was incoherent, but as he recalled the occurrence the story follows:

Kidnaped While Eating "I was eating my dinner in the Goodfellows' grill at Bishop, like a fool sitting at the counter when there had been muttered threats

BLEASE MAY WIN SEAT IN SENATE

Former Governor May Inherit Dial's Toga In Battle For High Honors

By MANNING J. RUBIN
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 29.—If Cole L. Blease, former governor of South Carolina, is nominated for the United States Senate at the run-off primary election of September 9 it will demonstrate the truth of the Salvation Army slogan that "A man may be down, but he is never out."

Furthermore, if the mantle of Senator Dial, who was eliminated in the first primary, should descend upon his shoulders, Blease will have proved that the political prognosticators of the Palmetto state do not know their business, for right now they regard it as inevitable that the former governor will meet with the usual defeat that has attended his previous attempts to reach the Senate.

Surprises Enemies But, if the unexpected should happen, and Blease should defeat Representative James F. Byrne in the run-off primary, it would be a turn of events that would be remarkable in the kind of campaign Blease has conducted this year—a campaign that has caused many a voter to pinch himself to see if he was awake. The old time Blease, whose sensational "to hell with the constitution" was heard from one end of the country to the other, has been succeeded by a quiet, gentle campaigner who, with almost evangelistic fervor, called for drastic interpretation and enforcement of the Volstead act and deprecated the fact that the national Democratic platform did not contain a plank acknowledging the supremacy of God and the deity of Jesus Christ.

Old timers in the political game in South Carolina cannot quite reconcile themselves to the amazing spectacle of Cole L. Blease.

PLAN TEST WELL TO DISCOVER OIL

Project Backed by Men With Funds Sufficient to Carry It Through

BURBANK, Aug. 29.—A group of local and Los Angeles capitalists are about to sink a test oil well in the section between the Southern Pacific tracks and the San Fernando road, according to James Moore of 120 East San Fernando road, who states that the company is completely financed and there will be no stock or other interests for sale.

Leases on 800 acres of land in that locality, it is claimed, have already been secured. It is desired to have 1000 acres of land leased, according to Mr. Moore, which means that there will be only 200 additional acres needed.

Plenty of Money
It is said that several millions of dollars were represented at a recent meeting among those present. Among the people back of the movement are James Moore, John L. Clark of Los Angeles, Mrs. Katherine Moore who lives in the vicinity of the proposed operations, and a Mr. Briand, an attorney of Los Angeles.

Vacation in North
Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fitch and son, C. L. Fitch, sign painters, have returned from a week's visit in San Francisco, which they enjoyed as part of a two weeks' vacation. They intimate Frisco has retained, at least with them, her reputation of being a cold, cold town. Mr. Fitch says that they wore their overcoats practically all the time, both night and day. The fog was as wet as a shower of rain, causing them to appreciate the sunniness of Southern California.

P. J. Higgins, formerly in the furniture business in this city, who has been living in Long Beach for the past year or so, has returned with his family to Burbank and is located at 557 Tujunga avenue.

BURBANK TO HAVE EXHIBITION PLAT

Space Is Taken by City at Industrial Show; Map To Show Streets

BURBANK, Aug. 29.—This city will have a 12x14 space in the Industrial exposition to be held here beginning September 9, and W. P. Coffman and C. R. Carrigan have been assigned to manage the exhibit, whose feature will be a map the entire length of the booth, 14 feet, and half its width.

This map will show the city from boundary line to boundary line, and especial emphasis will be placed on the streets that are paved, and as so many are, it is expected to make a most remarkable showing in this respect. The new paving will be shown in red and the old in blue.

Generally, the exhibit will demonstrate in as able a manner as possible, the advancement which the city of Burbank has made in recent times from the standpoint of public development. This will include industrial and school progress, the bonded indebtedness of the city; advancement in water and light service and numerous other things which will be enlightening to the public.

OXY MAY BECOME WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Plan to Place Institution On Par With Eastern Universities

EAGLE ROCK, Aug. 29.—The plan to make Occidental college an exclusively women's educational institution, announced recently, is to have far-reaching consequences and will in no small degree affect the future cultural environment of "the five friendly valleys," according to Remsen du Bois Bird, president.

"We desire to make Occidental college an institution on a par with Vassar, Bryn Mawr and Smith," he says. "The men's college will be developed at Santa Monica."

Work Progressing
"We are planning as soon as the rains come to plant the entire campus. Work is progressing very satisfactorily on the women's dormitory and we are in the midst of an endeavor to arouse interest in the other major buildings, necessary for the functioning of the women's college."

Fifty per cent of the proceeds of the sale of the Santa Monica property will be devoted to endowment. One-half of this money will be used for the endowment of the women's college in Eagle Rock.

"The Eagle Rock Bowl upon the campus, with the coming of the music department, is, of course, even more important than it was in the earlier plan."

Summer at Beach
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Weir and family have been spending the summer at their beach home, 1633 Manhattan avenue, Hermosa Beach. They are having a most enjoyable time, entertaining frequently with charming house parties, beach suppers, and moonlight swimming parties. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Weir entertained at the California Yacht club for Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Simmonson of New York. Miss Katherine Weir, who is with them, has entertained many groups of her young friends, also.

Mrs. M. E. Aldrich, of Oakland, Cal., who spent the summer here attending summer school and visiting her sister, Mrs. W. L. Kie-then, has returned home, where she will take up her work as a teacher of social science, in University Junior High school.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Aug. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. William L. Sammons are occupying their new home on North Wilson avenue. They formerly lived in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Carskaden have taken a cottage on North Wilson avenue, where they will make their home.

William Thomas has returned to Tujunga from a stay at Hueneme, where he built a summer cottage for himself and Mrs. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baker have moved from Tujunga to Huntington Park.

SAVE STARVING MAN

LONG BEACH, Aug. 29.—Citizens here today came to the rescue of William Nauta, 36, school caretaker, whose collapse revealed he had been starving himself for several weeks in order to aid members of his family, who had been ill.

San Francisco. They made the trip by auto, going and coming by way of the Coast route. They found many interesting sights at San Francisco, but not enough to change their previous opinion that southern California has the best of it as a place of residence over the other parts of the state.

A. R. Tupper, who has been living on the Glenn ranch since his return from the Olive View sanitarium, has taken quarters at the Ramsay apartments at the corner of Third street and Orange Grove avenue and moved in on Sunday.

Improve Service for Sunland Water Users

SUNLAND, Aug. 29.—Improvement and extension of water mains in the Sunland district by the Haines Canyon Water company has been advanced until the district has a very complete and efficient service. Four-inch mains serve the residents from both sides of the valley, one main running on Manzanita Drive and another on Hill street, connecting at Monte Vista park. The cost of laying mains on Hill street to connect with the other lines was $3000. During the past year the Haines Canyon Water company has spent $30,000 in improvements which include new mains, pumps and pump houses.

In the last forty years, Africa has produced 75,000 pounds of diamonds.

JAMES TO SPEAK AT COLTON CLUB

Glendale Monologue Artist
Will Tell Method of Making Records

Colton Rotarians were so delighted last Friday by the entertainment of Harry James, Glendale monologue artist, that they engaged him to return today for a lecture on "Making Phonograph Records" at their noon luncheon.

Mr. James was scheduled to give the lecture last Friday, but the Rotarians urged him to give some of his popular monologues. Appearing as a representative of the Brunswick Phonograph company, Mr. James is in great demand as a radio artist and platform entertainer.

Two New Records
 His Glendale friends will be interested in the announcement that he has just completed a record for the Brunswick people, with Lincoln's Gettysburg address on one side, and "Memoirs of Lincoln" on the other. The "Memoirs" were originated by Mr. James after a personal interview with Senator Cole of Los Angeles, who sat three feet away from President Lincoln when he delivered the Gettysburg address. This is the first of a series of educational records Mr. James hopes to make.

Mr. James is anticipating filling engagements at the KFI broadcasting station in September, presenting a series of one-act comedies. He greatly enjoys his radio work, which, he says, gives him splendid opportunity to advertise Glendale.

During the week of September 8 Mr. James will appear twice for the American Legion post of Gardena in the dedication of its new clubhouse.

G. L. HARN TO WED MISS LOOKABAUGH

Dr. H. I. Rasmus to Perform
Ceremony Sunday Night
After Service

The approaching marriage of Miss Alice Lookabaugh, daughter of Mrs. S. J. Lookabaugh of 367 West Wilson avenue, and G. L. Harn, son of G. H. Harn of Los Angeles, which will take place Sunday night, August 31, 1924, at the First Methodist church, is attracting wide attention among the residents of Glendale and vicinity.

Dr. H. I. Rasmus, pastor of the church, will be the officiant. Preceding the marriage service Dr. Rasmus will deliver a sermon on "The Eclipse of a Perfect Love."

The members of the bridal party will include matron of honor, Mrs. Clyde Robinson of Los Angeles, sister of the groom, and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. Glenn Dolberg of Glendale, nee Dorothy Pearl, and Onnalee Wychoff of Los Angeles. The two flower girls, Marian Malarkey and Virginia Preston, both of Glendale, are members of Miss Lookabaugh's Sunday school class, of which she is teacher.

Mr. Harn's best man will be his brother, Clifford Harn of Los Angeles, who will marry Miss Onnalee Wychoff of Los Angeles, also a member of the bridal party, on Tuesday night, September 2.

Noted Tenor to Sing At Hollywood Concert

Joseph Conlin, noted American tenor, will appear at the Hollywood Bowl in concert Tuesday, September 16. Mr. Conlin was the last operatic scholar of the late Maestro Lombardi, of Florence, Italy, teacher of the late Caruso, and numerous other world-famous artists.

He is considered by many noted critics to possess a tenor voice which is destined to become the greatest in the world and the forthcoming concert will be an exceptional treat to music lovers and patrons of the Bowl.

Head Y. Building Campaign

GEORGE D. McDILL (left) has accepted the position of general chairman in the coming drive to raise $275,000 for the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building in Glendale. CHARLES H. TOLL (center) and DAVID BLACK (right) are vice chairmen.

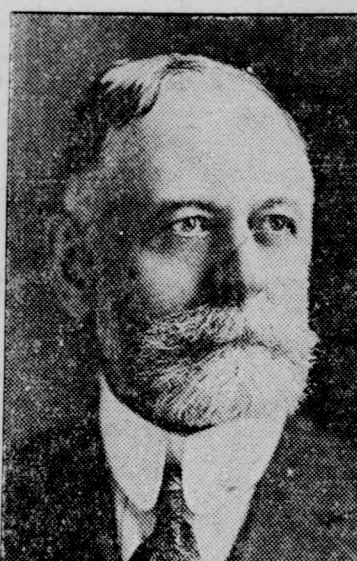

Mrs. Edward Miller
Reported as Missing

Mrs. Edward Miller of 1112 East Lomita court is reported missing by her husband. She has been gone since Wednesday, he told Captain William A. Loving of the Glendale police department. He gave her age as 33, her height as 5 feet, 7 inches, and her weight 150 pounds. Her eyes are blue, her hair blonde. She had on a tan coat with a fur collar at the time of her disappearance, Mr. Miller said.

Organization Taking Shape To Crown Enterprise With Success

The working organization to secure a modern Young Men's Christian Association building for Glendale is rapidly taking form. Three prominent citizens signified their intentions yesterday of heading this group of men.

George D. McDill is general chairman, C. H. Toll and David Black vice-chairmen.

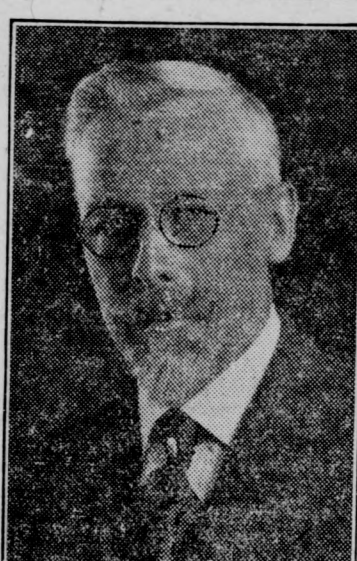

Mr. McDill was formerly an executive secretary of the International committee of the Y. M. C. A., personally associated with Dr. John R. Mott, the senior secretary of the World Y. M. C. A. He has been a resident of Glendale for the past six years, taking prominent part in civic and church affairs. He is also past president of the Men's Brotherhood and a director of the Protestant Welfare association, which conducts a home for boys near Pomona.

Toll Is Pioneer
 Mr. Toll is one of Glendale's best-known and old-time citizens, having come here at the time the present city was a mere hamlet. He is the father of three boys, and has always been associated in the betterment of boys' life, being a member of the present Boy Scout council of Los Angeles. He is vice-president of the Security Trust & Savings bank of Los Angeles.

David Black, another old-time resident of Glendale, is also known for his civic, church, and business interests here. He was the first chairman of the present Y. M. C. A. organization, when it was organized six years ago, still filling that position.

Other prominent citizens are expecting to give of their time to make possible this most needed enterprise, consummating in the "Y" campaign, September 16 to 23, with a goal of $275,000.

Plans Campaign
 E. L. Mogge of Chicago, secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., who is directing the campaign, stated this

Ensenada Is Goal Of Glendale People

A party of nine Glendadians is leaving this afternoon for Ensenada, Baja California, Mexico, where they will spend the weekend. The party comprises Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, with Mrs. White and their daughter, Miss Helen White, of 1216 East Maple avenue; John T. Cate, business manager of the Glendale city schools, and Mrs. Cate of 406 West Broadway and Mr. and Mrs. Rule E. Downing and their two nieces of 206 1/2 West Hawthorne street.

The party will stop over at San Diego tonight and hit the dirt road to Ensenada early in the morning, stopping at the Half Way house for lunch and arriving at the quaint little Mexican seacoast town in time for a dip in the inviting surf of the beautiful bay before partaking of enchiladas, frijoles, tortillas, arroz y huevos fritos. They will arrive back in Glendale Monday night.

Frank C. Weller to Attend Convention

Frank Weller, successful candidate in the primary election Tuesday for the Republican nomination for assemblyman from the Sixty-First district, will leave Glendale tomorrow, accompanied by Mrs. Weller, for a three weeks' trip through the Northland. Mr. and Mrs. Weller will attend the state Republican convention at San Francisco on September 16.

morning that the organization would consist of 100 business men divided into four divisions of five teams each, and that he was meeting with most hearty response and interest in the forming of this working unit.

The active campaign will consist of seven working days, beginning September 16, to be inaugurated by "Young Men's Sunday" in the churches, September 14, and a civic "get-together" dinner the evening of Monday, September 15.

SEES BEAUTY OF ALASKA REGIONS

Glendale Girl Spends Three Weeks on Voyage to Famed Northwest

Miss Olive Pixley of 116 West Lomita avenue, has just returned from a trip to Alaska and the Northwest, having been away from home since August 4. Miss Pixley is very enthusiastic about the wonders of Alaska. She prepared the following account of the trip for publication in The Glendale Evening News.

"There were thirty in the party, which was under the care of Miss Ella Stevers, physical director of the Department of Health and Recreation of the Los Angeles Y. W. C. A.

"From Seattle we sailed up what is known as the inland route, with the mainland on one side and a chain of islands on the other. The first stop was at Ketchikan, Alaska, which was not reached until nine o'clock the evening of August 9. There we spent a couple of hours visiting the curios shops, the two totem poles for which Ketchikan is famous, and the quaint Indian village.

See Fish Cannery
 "Next morning, August 10, we stopped at the Lake Bay fish cannery, and of course everyone was much interested in the canning process which was carefully explained to us, from the time the fish are first caught in nets until the cans are packed for shipment. We saw ten thousand salmon in one bin, and ere nightfall the whole ten thousand were cleaned, packed, canned and cooked and placed in boxes ready for consumption. The work is most interesting, and we were very glad to see with our own eyes how carefully and in what cleanly manner it is handled. Many of the employees are white men, but the majority are native Indian men and women.

"From Lake Bay we proceeded in a leisurely way, making short stops at Beaulieu, Wrangell, Petersburg, Taku Harbor and Douglas; then across to Juneau, the capital, where we remained several hours and made the trip by auto to the big Mendenhall Glacier. The town of Juneau is beautifully situated with the imposing snow-crowned mountains almost crowding it into the sea; the famous Treadwell mine is near, as well as several other mines and smelters, which, with the fishing, makes a fair sized place with a somewhat permanent citizenry.

First Icebergs
 "Soon after leaving Juneau we saw our first iceberg and there was great excitement on board. For we knew we were soon to see the Taku Glacier which Captain Livingstone had promised to show us. Gradually the icebergs became more frequent until we were sailing in the very midst of a floating sea of them, the ships having to proceed at a slow and careful speed. We reached the glacier, which is a beautiful blue and white mass of ice, several miles across, extending sheer out into the water, and is a most imposing sight. A long blast from the ship's whistle caused vibrations that made a huge mass of ice break away from the glacier

Thank Odd Fellows For Gift of Piano

Glendale Odd Fellows, meeting last night in the lodge hall on West Broadway, were pleased with a letter of appreciation for the piano the lodge sent to the old folks' home at Gilroy.

There were a number of visitors in attendance at the meeting and they brought greetings. Among the speakers were V. A. Hutchinson, O. P. Hutchinson, W. T. Lewis, A. J. Ostrander and Mr. Benner.

The lodge members are greatly pleased at having P. G. Murdock home from a vacation trip. He told of the orphan's home at Gilroy. A talk on the junior order was given by Mr. Munaugh of Glendale.

Report was made on the drill team being organized by Mr. Stewart of Arizona. This team will compete with the Glendale lodge team. The lodge is to give a dance for members and friends Saturday night in the lodge hall. Proceeds are to go to the charity fund.

Men Will Assist In Church Mission Work

Men of the Central Christian church are to be organized into a department of the missionary society of the church, at a meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Eva Hutton and Mrs. Alma Wright at 326 East Colorado.

The feature work of the missionary society is the support of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Learned, missionaries in Africa. Since it was impossible for many of the men to attend the missionary society meetings during the day, it has been arranged to form the men's department to meet in the evening. Thirty men are enrolled to date.

Plan Prize Fox Trot At Auditorium Dance

A special feature of the dance to be held Saturday night in Hahn's auditorium, 109-A North Brand boulevard will be a prize Fox Trot. The first three couples will be chosen to dance in the finals on September 20. Two beautifully engraved silver cups will be awarded to the winning contestants.

ENTERTAINS FOR NIECE'S WEDDING

Miss Hazel Walters Wedded
To Clarence McMillan
At Aunt's Home

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Palmer of 1008 East Colorado street received over 125 relatives and friends at their home last night, Thursday, August 28, 1924, for the marriage of their niece, Miss Hazel Walters, to Clarence McMillan.

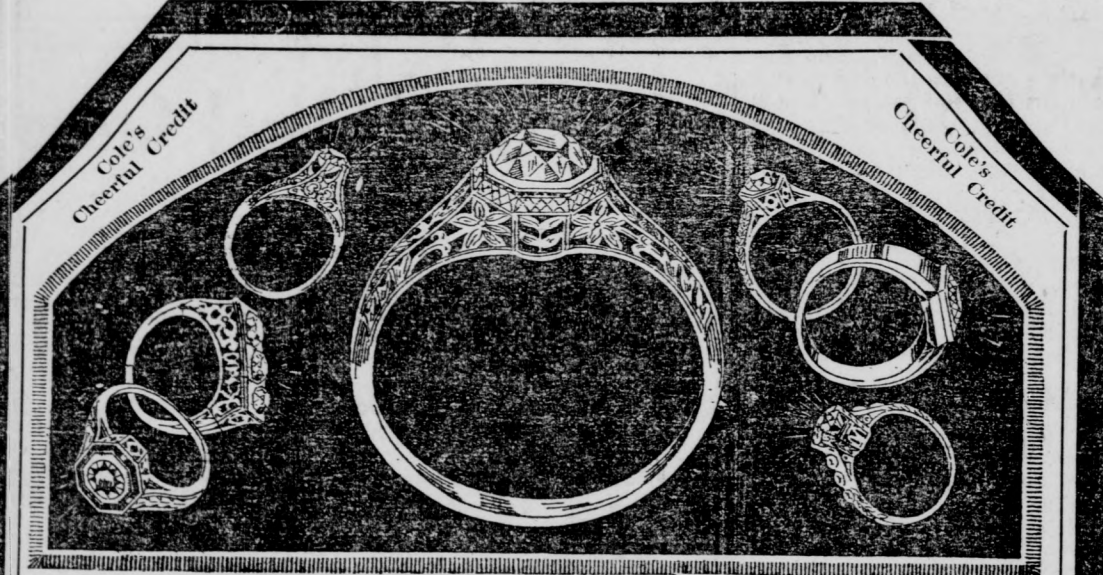

Amid a bower of beautiful late summer flowers the marriage service was read at 8 o'clock by Rev. Eugene Haines, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church. Before the hour for the ceremony a program of bridal music was given. Mrs. Stanley Walker gave as a piano number "To a Wild Rose" (MacDowell) and "O Promise Me." The "Lohengrin" (Bridal Chorus) was played by Mrs. Walter Benjamin of Hollywood.

Wedding Dress
 The ceremony took place beneath the archway between the living room and sun parlor, flowers and greenery being artistically arranged as an attractive setting.

Miss Walters wore a white satin gown, made on long lines, with drapery effect, and trimmed with Persian lamb. Her long veil was held beneath a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of bride's roses, white sweetpeas and maidenhair fern. She was given in marriage by her uncle, O. S. Palmer.

Attending her were Mrs. Stanley Walker as matron of honor and Misses Ruth Palmer and Evangeline Quackenbush. Mrs. Walker wore a pale yellow printed georgette crepe over sunburst taffeta, trimmed with silver lace. Her bouquet was an arm arrangement of golden marguerites. Miss Palmer wore orchid printed georgette over rose taffeta, and Miss Quackenbush wore blue over blue taffeta. Each carried

ROTARIANS ENJOY CITY LAWYER PICNIC CONTESTS SAVED FROM MOB

Bobbed Haired Women Lose
Tug-of-War; Ball Game
Results Debated

Secret Signal of Distress
Halts Ranchers Bent
On Hanging Him

The history of Samson was repeated yesterday afternoon at Brookside park, Pasadena, where sixty-five local Rotarians and Rotary Anns held a hilarious picnic, when the bobbed-haired women lost the tug of war to their sisters of unshorn locks.

The big feature of the afternoon was the ball game between the team of Captain J. Herbert Smith, president of the club, and that of Roy L. Kent, past president. It was rumored when the dust had settled that "Cap'n" Smith had led his baseballers to a 17 to 6 victory, but this rumor was stoutly denied by "Cap'n" Kent's ladies.

Anyway, there is no denying that Mrs. Fay G. Stone won the rolling-pin heaving contest, so "Doc" had better watch his step, say the boys. Mrs. Henry J. Friesen won the prize for the biggest smile. The Bentley family swept the field in the aquatic events, Roger taking first and George, second.

It being not only the birthday but the wedding anniversary of Daniel H. Kelly, Jr., he was tendered a toy balloon for some vague symbolic reason, while Mrs. Kelly was the recipient of a brand new automobile—of the toy variety.

Then, of course, there were the "cats," which all agreed hit just the right spot, after the vigorous exercise of the afternoon. While his brother Rotarians and their Rotary Anns partook of chicken, Francis J. W. Henry rounded out the occasion with some well directed songs.

Doctor's Wife Shows Varied Psychic Power

Movement of furniture on the lower floors likewise occurred under this procedure, tables and stools marching while the sitters, brought downstairs for the purpose, watched in fairly good light.

At another seance of Mrs. Cranford's, with both hands and feet firmly held, the investigators got an extraordinary display of psychic lights. The range in brightness, size, location and movement was wide, though they were confined to the space within the circle. A puzzling feature of "Margery's" lights in general is that flashes described by some sitters as brilliant are invisible to others. This is done by intent, sometimes by announcement.

At one sitting, Chester concentrated on the curtain pole, phosphorescent on both ends to mark its position.

"This pole was threaded through a maze of arms and legs in a path so complicated as, apparently, to present but two alternatives: Either the pole must have been passed back and forth with great dexterity between two or more carriers as it proceeded, or its carriers must have been capable of penetrating matter."

Without exhibiting skepticism, the investigators point out that the scientists were at some disadvantage because "Chester" kept changing his "stuff," so that they could not always be prepared to give him a thorough test.

Hope Expressed for Settling Water Suit

The suit brought by the Verdugo Cattle company and the city of Glendale against William S. Sparr, H. E. Barnum, M. Walters and John Doe, scheduled for a hearing yesterday in Department 25 of the Superior court, Los Angeles, has been continued till 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, September 3, states Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney, who is representing this city in the action.

The reason for the continuance of the case is that both sides hope to effect a settlement in the interim, he states. The suit had been brought to enjoin the defendants from taking from the Sparr Heights section more water than they have been taking since 1907, when their first well was sunk. Recently, according to Mr. Morrow, two additional wells have been put down.

Coolidge Makes Talk At Fraternal Congress

A common purpose, our government, economic and social organizations would at once disintegrate. When you minister to the spirit, when you stimulate it into greater activity, you provide greater security, larger resources and a more harmonious life for all the people. It is the expression of the spirit of common brotherhood which makes men desirous to serve their town, their own state and their nation in every lawful law-abiding way. It is the remedy for selfishness.

"A knowledge of these principles and ideals is among the most precious of human possessions."

EXTENSION CHARGED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, charged with today's election, was accused of attempting a bribe from Miss Martin for "police protection."

against my life flying around town during the day.

Six unmasked armed men walked into the restaurant, and coming up from behind, seized me and placed the handcuffs on me. As I screamed for help they choked me and lifted me bodily into a big car. I was more or less 'out,' everything having turned black before my eyes. "They placed a handkerchief over my eyes until the lights of Bishop had disappeared in the dusk. I knew we were going south of town and when they overtook a motor party of strangers on the road the car in which I was captive turned back and drove into an old abandoned shack on the Mike Maurall homestead. He died recently in the insane asylum.

Faces Death Gamely

"At the shack three more carloads of ranchers drove up and they prepared to hang me, asking if I desired to have my valuables sent to relatives. I debated with them whether they should send them to my sister or permit some disinterested party to break the news to her in Chicago. "Then I told them that I had always done what was in their interest, but opposed to the Southern Sierra Power company, the Watterson brothers who are Inyo county bankers, and the Long years of Los Angeles. 'Your minds have been inflamed by what you have read in the Bishop papers,' I added," Hall related, "but it didn't seem to do much good.

Gives Distress Signal

"When I had given up hope of saving my life I asked that they remove the bandage from my eyes that I might look at the sky. When this was done I saw one of my bitterest enemies—a Mason—and giving the Master Mason's signal of distress, it seemed as though half of the crowd was paralyzed by their actions.

"Then I told them how the sheriff had assigned a klanman as my body guard last January and he had told me that just as many members of the klan were my friends as there were those who opposed me. And while I am not a klanman this seemed to carry weight with other members of the mob.

Barbers for Life

"After a pow wow, lasting possibly a half hour, continued the attorney, 'the spokesman expected certain promises from me which were:

First—To get out of the county and stay out.

Second—To warn three men, George Warren of Big Pines and George Watterson and William Simons of Bishop to get out with me and stay out.

Third—To never divulge the names of those in the mob, for I had recognized several." Mr. Hall then related how he was driven within a half mile of Warren's ranch home where he was released with threats of death should he ever return. He continued to Warren's place and after giving the warning waited for the district attorney and sheriff to arrive as they had been summoned by Warren.

Gives List of 'Crimes'

Later Wednesday night the entire party stopped at the hotel in Lone Pine, continued to Independence Thursday morning. Later in the day I drove on to Little Lake and took the train for Glendale, arriving at 8:15 this morning.

The "crimes" with which Attorney Hall was accused by the Owens valley ranchers were the purchase of $1,600,000 property and water rights in which he was legal counselor, also bringing a suit in behalf of the taxpayers to test the validity of the organization of the Owens valley irrigation district, also the filing of a suit on behalf of taxpayers to prevent the issuance and sale of $1,600,000 bonds by the district.

Harvesting Apple Crop

Mr. Hall owns a 40-acre apple orchard and it was to attend to the harvesting of the crop, which he has sold, that he went to Independence nine days ago. However, he was expecting a check for $14,000 to pay in a probate case and visited Bishop Wednesday afternoon to settle this additional bit of business for the city of Los Angeles. He also attended to the packing of his office furniture to remove it to a Hollywood office building where he will be located after the first of September.

"As I told the ranchers," the unfortunate attorney concluded, "the murder of L. C. Hall would not help them in selling their property to the board of public service commissioners who will visit the valley on Wednesday of next week."

Blease May Finally Win Seat in Senate

Blease conducting a campaign on such a basis and without a single derogatory remark spoken about his opponents.

Of the 166,000 votes cast in the first primary, Blease received 60,000 votes, a plurality of 14,000 over Congressman Byrne. To win in the second primary, Blease must add approximately 14,000 to the vote he received in the first primary. Students of politics do not think he can possibly succeed in doing this. They regard the 95,000 votes scattered among Blease's opponents as being in the

Local Pastor Weds Los Angeles Couple

Miss Millicent Hattan and John Henry Baetz, both of Los Angeles, were united in marriage Thursday night, August 28, 1924, at 8 o'clock, by Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor of the Tropico Presbyterian church, at his home, 457 Riverdale drive.

The only attendants were Miss Edith Baetz, sister of the groom, and Mr. Hattan, brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Baetz after a short wedding trip will make their home on Casitas avenue, in the Atwater tract.

COLLEGE SAVANT TRACES BANDITS

Clues In Discarded Overalls
Point to Identity of Train Robbers

By L. C. OWEN
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
REDDING, Cal., Aug. 29.—A dozen heavily armed sheriff's posses are combing the rugged mountain country north of here in search of three alleged train robbers and murderers. Some time within the next twenty-four hours they may bring to a spectacular climax a drama of scientific criminology in which a humble Berkeley college professor has "out-Sherlocked" Sherlock Holmes.

The trio being sought by a cord of sheriff's posses are the desperate d'Autremont brothers, wanted for the holdup of a Southern Pacific passenger train and the wanton murder of three railroad employees, near the California-Oregon line last September, and who since that time have eluded capture in a 20,000-mile chase that led through three countries.

Following the usual precept of criminal custom, the three brothers are believed to have returned to the scene of their crime a few days ago and now to be hiding in the southern fringes of the Klamath forest reserve, forty miles north of here. The man hunt being waged for them is one of the most intensive and implacable ever staged in the far west.

Professor Is Sleuth
Should the pursuing posses be successful and the three much sought after desperadoes be landed safely behind the bars, they will owe their downfall to a bespectacled University of California tutor, who, when all others failed, and without moving from the narrow confines of his laboratory, 200 miles away, picked up the clues regarding their identity, seemingly out of thin air.

The central figure in this modern day detective story, but rivals the most lurid fiction exploits of Nick Carter or Conan Doyle's most mystifying story, is Professor E. O. Heinrichs, chemist, pharmacist, microanalyst and instructor in scientific crime detection at the University of California. In all his life Professor Heinrichs never carried a pistol, worn a badge or actually participated in a criminal man hunt, except by theoretical long distance.

How the college professor took a pair of overalls discarded by one of the robbers near the scene of the crime and from a few pinches of dust, some wood chips and other insignificant bits found in the pockets not only furnished the law officers with an accurate description of the wearer but actually established his identity and connected him with the crime, was revealed here today by railroad special agents participating in the d'Autremont man hunt.

Overalls Give Clue
In the same process it also develops that he saves an innocent man, an ex-convict, who had been taken into custody and against whom, until Professor Heinrichs disproved it, there was much circumstantial evidence.

A pair of greasy overalls with some electric batteries used in exploding a charge of dynamite under an express car were the only clues left behind by the robbers. After every square inch of the overalls had been fruitlessly searched for clues they were sent to Professor Heinrichs at Berkeley. Not, however, before the batteries had been traced to a garage several miles away and an ex-convict employed as a mechanic there whom the overalls happened to fit, had been arrested.

Under the discerning eye of the college professor, directed through a microscope, the overalls were not so clueless. The first discovery made by Professor Heinrichs was that the supposed grease was not grease at all, but spruce fir pitch with which the wearer had come in contact at some lumber camp.

Next, the professor-criminologist searched the pockets of the overalls thoroughly. While to a casual observer, they contained no clues worth while, to a trained scientific observer they offered a wealth of information. Examined under a stethoscopic microscope which magnified 500 times, insignificant pinches of dust resolved themselves into bits of Douglas fir needles, finger nail cuttings, tiny pine chips, bits of leaves and red soil, common in one section of western Oregon. Hair caught in the buttons of the discarded garb, when put under a micrometer, was found to be dark brown. Finally, Professor Heinrichs advised the law officers of his findings.

Describes Wearer
"The man who wore the overalls was a left-handed white lumberjack, brown haired, probably dark eyed, of medium height, rather stockily built, fastidious, about 25 years old, and he comes from a certain town in western Oregon," said the professor. From the batteries found near the robbery he also developed that the finger prints, which through comparison divulged the identity of a young man with a criminal record from the same town in western Oregon. Officers investigating further found that the college professor's description of the former owner of the overalls and the man whose finger prints were discovered, tallied exactly.

From these clues, unearthed as it were by Professor Heinrichs where no clues were deemed by veteran man-hunters to exist, officers of the law shortly established facts which almost irrefutably linked one of the d'Autremonts, and later his two brothers, with the triple murder and train robbery.

KLAN ISSUE NOT CURBED BY DAWES

New Yorkers Generally Feel
His Speech Inadequate
On Question

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—In this the hotbed of anti-Klan feeling because of the large number of Catholics, Jews and negroes in the voting electorate, the speech of General Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominee for vice-president, has been received for the most part as inadequate.

Both the general and President Coolidge will find it necessary to go further in discussing the Klan and even exhorting it if they wish to retain the vote of the races and creeds condemned by the Klan.

Far from disposing of the issue for the Republican party, the Dawes speech has only stirred it up here. The Republican managers do not love John W. Davis any more for injecting his Klan query to the Republican nominees.

Doubt Definitions
What seems to rile the anti-Klan people here most is that General Dawes had kind words at all for the Klan. His statement that the Klan represented in some places "only an instinctive groping for leadership, moving in the interest of law enforcement," aroused those who know that the Klan's cardinal principles are to prevent Catholics, Jews and negroes from holding office and to regard as 100 per cent Americans only those who do not belong to those groups.

The Klan issue in the east is not primarily one of law enforcement or lawlessness. It is religious and racial. The Catholics and Jews are bitter over it and what they for the most part want, is a denunciation of everything the Klan does. In other words, there is no room for middle ground on the Klan issue. The Dawes speech will not be used as a weapon of attack to draw Republicans to the standard of Davis unless President Coolidge goes further than did General Dawes and denounces the Klan and all its works from top to bottom.

Must State Stand
John W. Davis' challenge to the Republican nominee is a direct result of the bitterness of feeling in this section on the Klan. A public speaker who dares to avoid the issue in this campaign especially in the populous sections of the east, stands little chance of being listened to on anything else. Once he declares himself, however, the crowd settles down to a friendly hearing.

John W. Davis was warned about this when he went to Seagirt. He was told he could not straddle if he wanted to and that straight out declaration was essential. Since he made his statement, Texas has, by an overwhelming vote, given the Democratic nomination, which is equivalent to an election, to Mrs. Ferguson, the anti-Klan candidate. This has heartened Tammany and the Democratic management in New Jersey and is offered by them as testimony of the wisdom of getting the Klan issue out of the nation's system.

President Coolidge is against the Klan in all its applications. He has been advised that he might as well avoid saying anything until it was necessary. Few Republicans expect him to remain silent now. If he condemns as wholeheartedly as did Davis, the issue will really be moved from the national ticket though it will play a big part in local elections.

Building Revival in South Is Reported

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—Building, especially home construction, is experiencing a revival here. Permits issued so far this month already have surpassed the July total of $1,750,000. Lumber prices are firmer. Thousands of families are preparing to move September 1, the majority drifting toward new homes in the suburbs. As a result, medium-priced apartments now are renting for 10 to 15 per cent under prices current this spring. Rents of the more expensive apartments remain unchanged.

Six-Wheel Busses to Be Delivered to P. E.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—The Los Angeles Railway company expects to receive today or tomorrow the first consignment from Burbank of its new six-wheel double decked busses, to be put in service on Los Angeles streets, that company announced today. The big busses are being built by the Moreland company at its Burbank plant.

left-handed was established by the college professor by particles of wood chips found only in the right hand pocket of the overalls. A left-handed lumberjack, he explained to officers, always stands on the right side toward a tree when wielding an axe, and it is possible for chips to fall only in the right pocket.

The same line of deduction led to characterization of the man as fastidious. Only a man who was extremely careful of his personal appearance pared his finger nails as thin as those found under the microscope in the pinches of pocket dust.

The best substantiation of the Berkeley college professor's deductions is the thousands of miles the d'Autremonts already have fled in their efforts to evade arrest and the boast made by them at several places that they never would be taken alive.

DAM TO CONTROL FLOW OF WATERS

San Gabriel Canyon Project
To Conserve Water for 105,000 Acres

By C. R. SIMMONS
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Recent borings at the proposed site of the San Gabriel canyon by flood control engineers reveal the fact that it will be necessary to go six to seven feet below the ground level to lay foundations. Two paramount objects will be accomplished by the building of such a structure: first, water conservation, and, secondly, flood control.

The area of this watershed above the dam site is two hundred and ten square miles, and in heavy rains its runoff and discharge are both extremely voluminous and erratic. Seven million acre feet of water have been discharged in the past fifty-two years from the mouth of the San Gabriel canyon into the valley and lowlands below it.

Area of 105,000 Acres
The area of lands below the mouth of the San Gabriel valley is about 105,000 acres. This includes the coastal plane below the Whittier Narrows, which has been built by this watershed, and which is tributary to it. The 7,000,000 acre feet discharge over this fifty-two-year period would be sufficient to cover this entire area below if applied at one time to a depth of sixty-seven feet. If this discharge had been regulated annually throughout these fifty-two years, it would have irrigated this total area of 105,000 acres (164 square miles) each year to a depth of 1.3 feet which would have made a perennial garden of the past year.

Ford Dealer Invites Public to Reception

Announcements have been sent out inviting the general public to attend the opening of the new John G. Caddell salesroom at Brand boulevard and San Fernando road. He is authorized dealer for Ford and Lincoln cars and Fordson tractors. The opening will be held Saturday night, August 30. Dancing and a general good time will be had. The salesroom is unusually attractive and impressive, having been remodeled and extensively altered. It will make a splendid home for the Ford products.

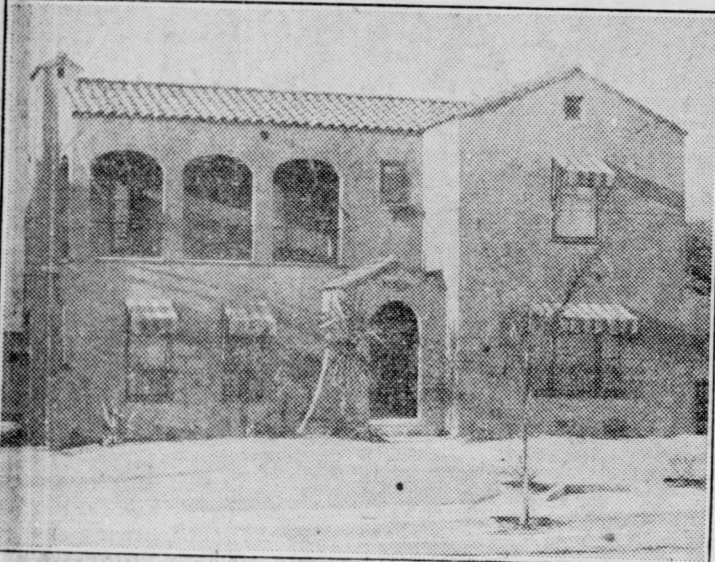

Surplus of Butter Revealed In Report

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Heavy production of butter has resulted in a surplus which the department of agriculture estimates will amount to between 48,000,000 and 53,000,000 pounds by September 1. Storage holdings at the four principal markets during the last week increased nearly 2,000,000 pounds.

A plant under construction at Elizabeth, La., will produce 20 tons of paper pulp per day.

Regulate Flow
Material benefits of the proposed structure are obvious. For instance, in a case like the winter of 1921-1922, 410,000 acre feet of water was discharged from this canyon, and during the past year, ending September 1st, only 72,000 acre feet were discharged. Had this dam been built three years ago none of the 410,000 acre feet of water would have reached the sea, but the greater portion of it might have been let down gradually and 200,000 still held in the reservoir to equalize the loss of the past year.

Saturday will mark another step in the progress of Glendale when the new building of W. P. Fuller and Company, at 217 North Brand boulevard, is opened to the public. This is a building that any city might well be proud of, and it was only after lengthy deliberation, conferences and investigations that the company decided to locate one of their branch stores in this city. The firm is nationally known in the paint trade and affiliated lines.

The new building, which is one of the best constructed buildings in Glendale today, was erected by the firm. The land upon which it stands is also owned by the firm. C. W. Fiske has been named manager of the Glendale store, and a complete line of paint, paper, brushes, plate glass and other articles along these lines will be carried by the new store.

Glendale painting contractors welcome the W. P. Fuller store to this city, building contractors welcome the new firm, and business men of the city unite in wishing the new store unlimited success.

Overhead Crossing At Pomona Sought

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Construction of an overhead crossing on Pomona boulevard over the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake railroad tracks immediately west of the city of Pomona is asked in a petition ordered by the Board of Supervisors to be presented to the state railroad commission.

The railroad commission is also to be asked by the county to order the abolition of the grade crossings of the tracks of the Southern Pacific west of the Pomona city limits.

This being the time set for continued hearing to set aside the commercial district the south 90 feet of lots 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, tract 4243, all of tract 8247, lot 237 of tract 1587, lots 46 "A" and south 158 feet of lot 47, Oliver's West Glendale tract, the clerk reported no protests received and the planning commission reported favorable. On motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, the city attorney was instructed to draft the necessary amendment.

Pacific and Wash

This being the time set for continued hearing to set aside as industrial district lots 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31, tract No. 4243, the clerk reported no protests received and planning commission reported favorable. On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, the city attorney was instructed to draft the necessary amendment.

Issuance of Bonds

The clerk informed the council that this was the time, hour and place where all persons interested might appear and state their objections, if any, against any action of the council of the city of Glendale to determine the aggregate amount of unpaid assessments for the improvement of Alpha road in said city, and providing for the issuance of bonds therefor, and prescribing their denomination, as more particularly described in resolution of intention No. 2267, passed by the said council on the 24th day of January, 1924, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for the hearing. Whereupon the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why said bonds should not be issued in accordance with the determination of the council, and all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Gilhuly, duly carried, all protests were denied. Whereupon Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale, California, relating to the issuance of street improvement bonds pursuant to resolution of intention No. 2267, determining the amount of unpaid assessments, prescribing the denominations of such bonds, and providing for their issuance," which was read, and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Davis, the same was numbered resolution No. 2560 and adopted.

Improvement of Raymond

The clerk notified the council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for hearing protests or objections to the work, assessment, diagram or any act, determination or proceeding of the street superintendent or city engineer for the improvement of Raymond avenue from Kenneth road to Glenwood road as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 2320, passed by the council of the city of Glendale on the 13th day of March, 1924, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for hearing. Whereupon the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed assessment should not be carried out in accordance with the diagram exhibiting the district to be assessed to pay the costs of said improvement, and all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, all protests were denied.

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, assessment roll for the improvement of Raymond avenue from Kenneth to Glenwood, as prepared by the street superintendent, was confirmed.

Assessment, Improvement

The clerk notified the council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for hearing protests or objections to the work, assessment, diagram or any act, determination or proceeding of the street superintendent or city engineer for the improvement of portions of the first alley West of Jackson street, Jackson street and Harvard street, as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 2384, passed by the council of the city of Glendale on the 1st day of May, 1924, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for hearing. Whereupon the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed assessment should not be carried out in accordance with the diagram exhibiting the district to be assessed to pay the costs of said improvement, and all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, all protests were denied.

Improvement of Canada

The clerk notified the council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for continued hearing of protests or objections against the proposed improvement, or the extent of the district for the improvement of Canada boulevard, San Gabriel avenue, Verdugo Canon road, Ramona avenue and other streets, as particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 2499, passed by the said council on the seventeenth day of July, 1924, and the clerk also reported protests received, and same having been referred to city engineer, were returned with the recommendation that work be ordered as property represented was but a small percentage of the total district, and that city was not a party to any private agreement. Whereupon, the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with the said resolution of intention, and all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Davis, duly carried, all protests were denied. Whereupon Councilman Davis introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale ordering certain improvements to be made on portions of Canada boulevard, San Gabriel avenue, Verdugo Canyon road, Ramona avenue, Santa Paula place, Santa Barbara avenue, Sombra drive, Willow drive, Santa Maria avenue, and Country Club drive, within the city of Glendale," which was read, and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the same was numbered resolution No. 2561 and adopted.

Sycamore and Sinclair

Petition signed by property owners, asking that part of lots 1 and 2 of Sinclair and Schlerholz tract be set aside as commercial district was read. On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, the city clerk was instructed to set the necessary date of hearing before the planning commission on September 15th and before the council on September 18th.

Western Avenue

Petition signed by property owners, asking that property facing off Western avenue between Lake street and the west city limit, be set aside as commercial district, was read. On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, the city clerk was instructed to set the necessary date of hearing before the planning commission on September 15th and before the council on September 18th.

Corral

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, application for permit to keep 24 mules at the corner of Tenth and Alameda for a period of 90 days, signed by Frank R. Mosher, was granted.

Streets in Tract 7160

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, request of Hope-Hardin-Weldon Realty company for a permit to improve streets in tract No. 7160, was laid over for one week.

Lake Street and Raymond Avenue

Petition signed by property owners, asking that Lake street from Sonora avenue to the north-west boundary, and Raymond avenue from Victory drive to Flower street, be improved with 5-inch macadam, curbs, sidewalk, gutters, culverts, storm drain and other necessary work, was read. The same having been referred to the city engineer was returned showing 65.5 per cent. On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, the city attorney and city engineer were instructed to draft the necessary proceedings.

Auto Camp Ground

On motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, reports signed by the health officer and acting chief of police, in the matter of application of E. Holland and Mary T. Holland for permit to conduct an automobile camp ground at 526 South San Fernando road, were ordered filed and referred to the committee of the whole.

Colorado Street Improvement

On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, an appeal for modification of assessment No. 388 on lot 1, tract 1178, for the improvement of Colorado tract was approved and referred to the city engineer to change assessment.

Lighting Standards

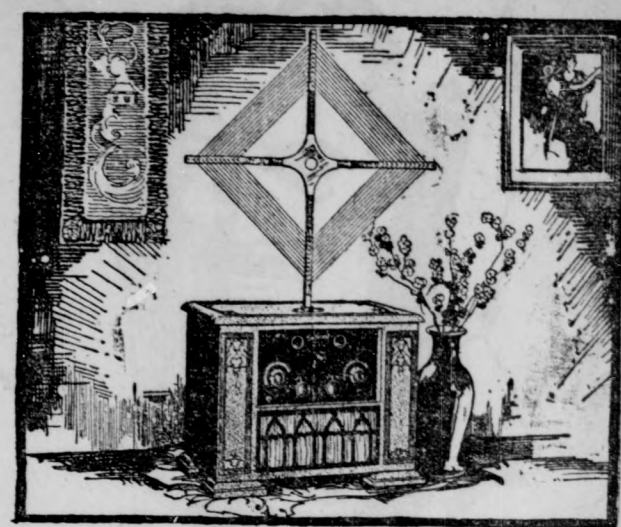

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for street lighting standards and equipment.

Ordinance Adopted

The ordinance entitled, "An ordinance amending ordinance No. 529, passed January 12, 1922, and entitled, "An ordinance of the city of Glendale establishing a residential district, an industrial district and four commercial districts in said city; regulating and restricting the location and locations of and the maintenance and carrying on of industries, trades and businesses in said city; providing for a residential, industrial and commercial district map" of said city; prescribing the penalty for the violation hereof; and repealing certain ordinances," by adding thereto a new section to be numbered section 13, which was introduced August 21, 1924, was read, and, on motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, the ordinance was adopted and numbered ordinance No. 982.

HUSBAND ADOPTS CAVEMAN TACTICS

Bends Gaspipe Round Rival's
Neck as Wife Stirs
Jealous Emotions

By MARGARET DALE
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—For a long time, Mrs. William Goodman looked at her quiet, unassuming, domesticated husband across the dinner table—and dreamed of a big, powerful, compelling caveman. Today her dream has come true. But her caveman is spending the next thirty days in jail, and when he comes out, no doubt will be as quiet and peaceful as he was in the days before he ran amuck.

Meanwhile, Charles Race, millionaire real estate man, is nursing divers cuts and bruises both physical and spiritual and meditating with disfavor on women who drive their husbands forth to avenge fancied wrongs—while Mrs. Goodman is denying herself that promised frock in order to pay for her adventure in flaming love.

Mrs. Goodman, so she told municipal Judge Lupe, did not feel that she was getting enough thrill out of life. So she invented one of those "eternal triangle" situations to sort of speed up things. "I told William," she explained, "that Mr. Race did not have to be asked twice to take me to a show, that he took me in a limousine when he did go, and that he brought me the most wonderful flowers."

Quiet, unassuming William, the testimony showed, flared at once into a perfectly thrilling caveman rage. He looked around for a neolithic club—a good heavy one, liberally supplied with knobby knots. The nearest approach to such a weapon that he could find about his Chicago "cave" was a length of gas pipe. It wasn't quite the conventional thing but it would suffice.

Thus armed, and breathing fire, William sallied forth into the wilds of the Windy City. High festivities were on at Millionaire Race's "cave." But that did not deter William even for an instant. He waded right in and, emitting stentorian cries to the general effect that even the neanderthalers with many seashells and dozens of bear skins could not get away with stealing his wife, clouted Mr. Race with the gas pipe.

Gas Pipe Curbs
A regular club probably would have been broken. The gas pipe did not. It merely curled a little about Mr. Race's neck. But the effects were much the same. The amazed third angle of the dream triangle went down like a smitten ox and it took several of his friends to pull the enraged William off.

When he had been resuscitated, Mr. Race adopted the highly uncavalier course of consulting the courts. William the caveman was hauled before the bar of justice and so was Mrs. William, the former charged with assault and battery and the latter with disorderly conduct, in that she did and plunge down into the sea to become one of the lovely blue icebergs.

From Taku, she proceeded direct to Skagway through the Lynn Canal, reaching the town early in the morning of August 13. There a train was waiting to convey us over the old White Horse trail to Lake Bennett in the direction of the Yukon. This was a lovely scenic trip of about eight hours and was well worth the additional cost. Returning to Skagway in the afternoon, some time was spent visiting the now world famous Pullen House and talking with Mrs. Pullen, seeing her wonderful collection of Alaska relics and curios and the beautiful gardens. In Skagway we visited a florist's and saw dahlias as big as dinner plates and of every conceivable shade and color, immense pansies and sweet peas and many other varieties of flowers, all of a more intense brightness and size than is found elsewhere. Due, they say, to the long hours of daylight in summer there.

Start Return Trip

"The return trip was a delightful repetition of the going, except that the weather was more sunny and we were thus afforded a clearer view of the mountain tops on either side and saw many more glaciers—certainly not less than one hundred. The inland sea was of a glassy smoothness most of the way and the wonderful intense blues of the water and the hills was beyond description."

"On reaching Seattle again in the morning of August 19, arrangements were made with the Southern Pacific Railway for another car. We boarded our train for Tacoma and thence went direct to Mt. Rainier by auto, staying over night at Paradise Inn. Thence we returned to Tacoma the evening of the 20th, where our car was attached to a train which carried us to Portland, arriving the next morning in time for breakfast and a wonderful sight-seeing trip over the Columbia Highway. We left Portland sometime during the night, arriving at Oakland the morning of August 23. There we had a full day in visiting the Bay Cities, arriving in Los Angeles Sunday noon."

Incite her husband to run amuck. "It was all a little joke," Mrs. Goodman sobbed to the judge. "That is, I wanted to see how jealous Bill would get. I never thought he'd do anything like he did. He's so very, very quiet. I wanted him to be a caveman and thought a little jealousy might do it."

Both Punished
"That's all right," said the judge, who obviously is not a follower of the latest in fiction. "But a woman has no right to inflame a man's jealousy to the point where he picks up an iron pipe and goes out to harm another man. You are more to blame than your husband. I shall fine you $50. I must sentence Goodman to thirty days in jail."

There was a day when a coy cave lady could stir her husband up and incite him on to deeds of violence, just for the thrill of seeing him lay a fellow caveman low. But in the words of the effete comic strip: "Them days is gone forever."

EXTRA BARGAINS AS SALE CLOSES

Cole's New Account Drive Is Bringing Huge Volume
Of New Business

Saturday marks the close of R. L. Cole's August New Account Drive. To say that the drive has been a complete success is putting it mildly, according to Mr. Cole, who states that he has entered scores of new names on his books and every day throughout the sale he has encountered new faces in his store at 106 East Broadway. Mr. Cole has completely satisfied himself that it does pay to advertise extensively in dull seasons and to give special bargains, for the people actually take advantage of real values.

As a special feature of the last day of the drive Mr. Cole is planning on giving a payment of $5 to the first woman who enters the store and purchases a certain wrist watch which bears a very attractive special price. He plans also on doing the same for the first man who purchases a certain watch which is marked at a special price for Saturday. This sale is a "no money down" proposition and is one of the most novel stunts to get additional business that a jeweler has featured in Glendale.

Coal Mines Operate At One-third Normal

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 29.—Coal mines of this district are operating at about 30 per cent of capacity and improvement is proceeding very gradually. Gas and steam slack have firmed up about 5 cents a ton on each grade, the former being quoted at $1.30 to $1.40 and the latter $1.20 to $1.25.

COUNCIL MINUTES

which was read and laid on the table.

Councilman Davis introduced an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance amending ordinance No. 529, passed January 12, 1922, and entitled, 'An ordinance of the city of Glendale establishing a residential district, an industrial district and four commercial districts in said city; regulating and restricting the location and locations of and the maintenance and carrying on of industries, trades and businesses in said city; providing for a residential, industrial and commercial district map of said city; providing the penalty for the violation hereof; and repealing certain ordinances, by adding thereto a new section to be numbered section 4aa14," which was read and laid on the table.

Resolutions Adopted
Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution, entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale adopting a certain diagram on file in the office of the city engineer of the city of Glendale," exhibiting portions of Monterey road, Adams street and Glendale avenue, which was read and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Hall, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2562 and adopted.

Councilman Davis introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale adopting Section No. 1 of the specifications for construction of Glendale-San Fernando valley intercepting sewer," which was read and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2563 and adopted.

Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution, entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale adopting Section No. 2 of the specifications for construction of Glendale-San Fernando valley intercepting sewer," which was read and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Hall, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2564 and adopted.

Councilman Hall introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale adopting Section No. 3 of the specifications for construction of Glendale-San Fernando valley intercepting sewer," which was read and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2565 and adopted.

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, meeting was adjourned.

CHURCH MEMBERS TO RAISE FUNDS

Gifts to St. Luke's Enhance Beauty of Episcopal
Place of Worship

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 29.—Mrs. C. E. Culbertson of East Michigan avenue will give a silver tea at her residence Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5, the proceeds of which will go to the roof fund of the new church of St. Luke of the Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bissel of High-up Ranch are to present the church with a drinking fountain in memory of their little daughter, Molly, who passed away a few weeks ago. Mr. Bissel is also giving a check to the building fund.

The cross designed by Seymour Thomas for the spire has been made and presented to the church by the village blacksmith at La Canada. A beautiful door in keeping with the architecture of the building has also been promised and many other gifts in the form of checks are being made from time to time.

One of the many picnic parties at Brookside park recently was made up of the James L. Brown family of East Montrose avenue, who were accompanied by John Robert Brown, who is visiting his brother, first president of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce.

Wheeler to Challenge Coolidge to Debate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice-presidential candidate on the La Follette ticket, announced that he would challenge President Coolidge to a series of public debates on the "oil, veterans' bureau and department of justice scandals."

In his speech in Boston next week, opening the progressive campaign, Wheeler said he would formally make the challenge.

The candidacy of John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, is "unlucky" to the Progressives, Wheeler said.

Wheeler made no secret of the fact that Progressives regard the defeat of President Coolidge as essential to a victory for them.

Wheeler plans to campaign along the Pacific coast in October, returning to the agricultural middle west just before election.

C. of C. Secretary to Address Merchants

Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will address the Glendale Merchants' association at their next week's meeting in the Alley Inn, to be held on Tuesday, September 2. On account of Labor Day, Monday, September 1, Secretary Frank H. Plummer of the Merchants' association states that the local stores will close on that day.

The members of the Burbank Credit Men's association will be the guests of the local organization next Tuesday, and every member is also expected to bring a guest on that day, so that a record size meeting is predicted.

Cornwell & Kelly, 107 South Brand boulevard, will give the attendance prize.

SCOUT WINS TROPHY
SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—Edward W. Smith, local scout, was one of the members of the Boy Scout troop of the U. S. A. to carry off the five first-place cups, winning the world's Scout championship in the recent International Jamboree held at Copenhagen, according to word received here recently. Thirty other countries were represented.

OPPOSE REMOVAL
RIVERSIDE, Aug. 29.—Proposals by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for the removal of the Citrus Experiment Station of the University of California, now located here, will be opposed by a delegation, representing the Riverside Chamber of Commerce, to a meeting in Los Angeles the latter part of the week. The development of a southern branch of the department of agriculture, University of California, gave rise to the question.

POLO EXPERTS COMING
SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—It is the opinion of Elmer Boeske, just returned from playing in the Olympic polo matches in France, that Santa Barbara will have a chance to see the best Eastern polo players in America in action here this season. He believes that the great players who will take part soon in games before the Prince of Wales will come west this winter.

Regarding the Prince of Wales, around whom many "wise cracks" have been framed, Mr. Boeske said: "All this talk about the Prince of Wales being a poor horseman is simply ridiculous! He takes more chances than most men." He is a very daring horseman.

PLAN LABOR PICNIC

PASADENA, Aug. 29.—Plans are being rapidly completed to make this year's Labor Day picnic here next Monday the finest ever. Under the direction of R. M. Harker, president of the board of labor, and E. W. Harker, chairman of the Labor Day committee, a program of variety and excellence is being mapped out that is expected to appeal to the multitude which attends. As in other years, Brookside park will be the scene of the outing.

ADAMS, TRAMBITAS FIGHT FOR CROWN

Coast Lightweight Title Is
At Stake In Hollywood
Battle Tonight

The Pacific coast lightweight crown will be at stake tonight when Johnny Adams, of San Bernardino, holder of the title, will defend it against the onslaught of Johnny Trambitas, of Portland. In the main event of a full fight card tonight at the Hollywood American Legion stadium. The pair have met before, Adams winning by a shade.

Racehorse Roberts and Kid Williams clash in the semi-windup. Roberts will enter the ring as a substitute for Pat Lester. Sammy Santos and Rusty Russell will meet in the special spot. Red Williams and Johnny Grella, a couple of 130-pounders, are booked for a battle. Jack Russo and Harry Stone, a newcomer from Philadelphia, will strut their stuff. Billy Hart meets Joe Rickey, and Ed Savage and Johnny Sacco open the show.

The special guest of honor tonight will be Jackie Fields, holder of the Olympic title in the featherweight class. Fields, who boxed under the colors of the L. A. A. C., will be presented with a gold watch by the Hollywood American Legion post. Fields and Joe Salas, runner-up in the Olympic finals, are scheduled to box at the Vernon coliseum on September 15.

Auto Races Scheduled For Monday, Riverside

Riverside is all set for the automobile races on Labor Day. This afternoon twelve noted drivers will line up for qualifying time trials at the fair grounds.

Those entered in the event are Leon Duray, conqueror of De Palma for the Italian colony victory; Frank Lockhart, Eddie Meyer, Cliff Bergere, Floyd Roberts and other Ascot favorites.

The track at Riverside has been put into splendid condition, and experts declare that the one-half-mile track record will be broken on Monday. The races are sanctioned by the International Motor Contest association.

May Employ Men to Kill Off Deer Herds

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Aug. 29.—Deer are so thick in Kaibak national forest, Arizona, men may be hired to shoot them, thinning out the herd of 30,000 animals in the preserve, it was announced here.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Cleveland—Carl Tremaine, bantamweight, outpointed Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, ten rounds; Kid Durand, Montreal, flyweight, outpointed Scotty Rayburn, six rounds.

At Newark—Jack Britton former welterweight champion, outpointed Jack Rappaport, ten rounds.

G. E. Murphy Inaugurates
Giant Get-Acquainted
Sale at Nursery

As a special feature the Brand Boulevard Nursery, 421 North Brand boulevard, is inaugurating a "Giant Get-Acquainted Sale," which starts tomorrow, Saturday. It is a special introductory sale to get acquainted with the new people of Glendale and extra special prices have been made on everything in stock, every shrub or plant in the huge stock of the nursery will be included and the sale will last until Saturday, September 6.

As an extra special for tomorrow G. E. Murphy states that he is giving a choice of any Rose Bush in stock, absolutely free with every $3.50 purchase.

As quality is the keynote upon which the Brand Boulevard Nursery has built their business and upon which they base their remarkable growth it is from this reason that the sale was first conceived, and is an effort to let the people know that the highest quality shrubs and plants are handled by the nursery.

Glendale Lathers to Hold Business Meet

.. BUTTERFLY ..

By KATHLEEN NORRIS. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

"I understand her type; there are thousands of her," Mrs. Spaulding answered. "Nothing stable, nothing habitual, in their lives. God preserve them from routine—from one moment's dependence upon themselves for amusement! A book must be easy to read, a play must shock, an opera they clip at both ends, for fear of being bored! I don't know where they're getting to, I'm sure."

"I think Butterfly will outgrow it," Hilary had said, with a sinking heart.

"I know she will," Mrs. Spaulding had answered, bracing her instantly. "Some women make a break, rush through all the stupid forms of divorce, and settle down with someone exactly like, or even considerably less attractive, than the first husband. I've seen it a hundred times! But Butterfly won't do that; she'll have her fling, and have her babies, and she and Craig will begin to grow up. Don't look so serious, Hilary; I blame Craig at least as much as I do Dora!"

The old woman kissed her good-bye at the train; there were actual tears in the small, sharp gray eyes under their heavy black brows.

"Good-bye, child. I wish I had kept my first two little children," said Grace Spaulding, at parting. "I would have liked a daughter like you, or a son to marry you to!" Hilary carried these words with her in a dancing heart; she felt, and everyone who listened to her felt, that there had never been so delightful a holiday.

They were presently watching the islands and shore of Manhattan take shape in a gray, rain-swept harbor; Liberty held aloft her torch in greeting; and Hilary remembered her father holding her at the rail of a rolling little French steamer, almost twenty years before, and telling her that her mother's country had given the great statue to his own.

Tugs fussed out to meet them. Hilary, writing addresses and moving restlessly and smilingly to and fro, marvelled at an absence of only seven weeks could earn so delicious a pain of home-coming. She was not hungry, yet it seemed long since breakfast; she was not nervous, yet these preliminaries to getting ashore seemed endless.

Presently, with an involuntary cry of joy that surprised her, she saw Craig waiting on the pier under a quivering umbrella, and studying the lines of the decks

Views and Theatres News Notes

Previews From Studios

"The Stampede" will continue until the end of the week at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians at Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. This is proving one of the most popular plays these capable players have yet put on, and deserves the big success it is enjoying.

It is strong, clean and whole, some, full of laughs and thrills. Here is the old, red-blooded west brought right onto the stage, with all its color and romance. The curtain rises nightly at 8 o'clock and Manager J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians advises those who want to see it to come early, as the tent is crowded every night.

"The Stampede" is regarded as one of the few genuine western dramas that has ever been written. Wherever it has played it has drawn big houses. There is about it a vitality and punch that brand it as authentic.

THE T. D. & L.

"Never Say Die" opens today at the T. D. & L. theatre.

THE GATEWAY

"Changing Husbands" continues at the Gateway theatre.

THE GLENDALE

"The Dangerous Blonde" opens today at the Glendale theatre.

"She's a good worker," Craig said. "What are you laughing at, Vi?" he added, in faint displeasure, as Violet released a silver peal of laughter.

"No, but tell me, how is Kronski as a teacher?" Hilary asked, interestedly. "I've often wondered. Is he cross, Butterfly?"

"He was the other day," Dora answered, quietly, smiling as at an amusing memory. "Von Manderscheid told me that the other morning the cleaner came, and Konrad said to him: 'Those things on that chair!' I don't know where Muller, the valet, was. But on the chair was an exquisite old piece of oriental embroidery—a mandarin robe, I think, that hadn't been cleaned for two thousand years! The cleaner went off with it, and ruined it, of course, and Von Manderscheid said that there was a regular seel! Let me hot it up for you, Vi."

"No, thanks, my dear, perfect!" Vi said, watching her steadily. "I'm getting to like tea," she went on, stirring it lazily. "Craig, does your wife let you go to luncheon with pretty divorced ladies?" she asked.

"Sometimes," Butterfly admitted.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BUNTY'S BROOM

"Uncle Wiggily! Uncle Wiggily!" called Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit girl, as she saw the bunny gentleman hopping away from his seashore driftwood bungalow one day. "Wait a minute, please!"

"What is it, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears, turning so that he could see his pink nose twinkle, which was always a cheerful sight.

"Will you please bring me a box of salt water taffy when you come back, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Baby Bunty.

"Oh, yes, I think so," answered the rabbit uncle. "You like popcorn; don't you bunty?"

"Oh, yes, Uncle Wiggily," laughed the little orphan, "but I didn't say popcorn—I said taffy. You are so absent minded! But if you wish to bring popcorn as well as taffy, I won't mind," and Bunty laughed a jolly laugh.

"Well, I'll see about it," and Uncle Wiggily gave his pink nose another twinkle and hopped off down the beach.

Bunty went back in the driftwood bungalow where she was visiting Uncle Wiggily and his muskrat lady housekeeper, and when Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy heard Bunty tripping up the steps the housekeeper said:

"Bunty, please take your little broom and sweep your room. And make it neat and tidy before you go out to play and bathe in the ocean. Always leave your room tidy before you go away, Bunty."

"Yes'm," murmured the little orphan rabbit girl, but I am afraid she was thinking more about the candy and popcorn than of her room.

Anyhow, when Nurse Jane went up to Bunty's room a little later everything was scattered about, the broom stood in one corner beside a pile of dirt that needed taking out, and the whole place was in disorder.

"Oh, Bunty, why didn't you make your room neat and tidy?" called the muskrat lady housekeeper to the little orphan, who, just then, was running down the sand to bathe in the ocean.

"Oh—I forgot—I guess!" answered Bunty. "I'll do it some other time."

Nurse Jane sadly shook her tail and went back in the bungalow. After a while Bunty came up from the bathing beach, and when she saw Uncle Wiggily's red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch on the porch she knew the old rabbit gentleman had returned.

"Oh, did he bring me the popcorn and candy?" she asked Nurse Jane, for Mr. Longears was not there just then, being out in the yard.

"I didn't see them, Bunty," sadly answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, for she felt hurt at the way Bunty had left her room. "Perhaps Uncle Wiggily forgot your candy and popcorn as you forgot to use your broom."

"Oh! Oh, dear!" sighed Bunty, and she felt tears coming into her eyes. And, as she didn't want Nurse Jane to see her crying, Bunty ran up to her room. She saw how untidy it was. She saw her broom in a corner near a pile of dirt.

"I'll take my broom and sweep

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

WEANING
Mrs. R.—Most children specialists advise weaning at about the ninth month. If the baby has had one bottle since the second or third month, which is a very good idea, it is not so difficult. It is best to wean gradually. First, give the bottle instead of the breast at one feeding. The next week, substitute another bottle for another breast feeding, and so on, until the child is completely on the bottle.

You should have begun to feed the child strained cereals by the sixth month and the vegetable broths and the strained vegetables by the seventh month, beginning with one-half teaspoon at the 10 a. m. feeding, and increased that amount every other day, until two or three tablespoons are taken. By the seventh month the strained vegetables can be given in the same way.

You had better see a child specialist for a milk formula, or go to one of the baby clinics. The child by the ninth or tenth month can be taking whole milk, but you cannot begin immediately on whole milk. You can begin with half milk and half water, and increase the milk and decrease the water about an ounce every other day until the whole milk is being taken. If the child is having three or four tablespoons of cereal, vegetables, dried toast and egg yolks, as she should be having by this time, it would not be necessary to put sugar in the milk.

Recent work has shown that milk is more digestible with lemon or orange juice in it. If you find the milk doesn't agree with your baby, you can add three teaspoons of lemon juice to the quart of milk, beating it in drop by drop. Add about the same amount of water as the lemon juice.

VACCINATION
Yes, it is well to have the baby vaccinated before she is a year old. Babies can be vaccinated on the leg. After they are older and running around, the arm had better be used, unless you can keep them quiet for three or four days.

The articles I have written on child and infant feeding are now compiled in book form. We also have a list of modern books on the subject, which list you may have by sending self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

MOUTH BREATH
Mrs. J.—Your child still sleeps with his mouth open, after his obstructive tonsils and adenoids have been removed. If the nasal passages are clear it is probably due to habit. Make a little chin strap and put this on the child when he goes to sleep.

CURVATURE OF SPINE
Mrs. G.—You are very wise to

Social Clubs

Edited by KATHERINE V. SINKS

Board Meeting

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Women's Athletic club held at the home of the president, Mrs. J. H. Toal, 367 West Colorado street, plans were made for the club's beach outing to be held Wednesday, September 3 at Santa Monica.

All club members and their friends are to meet at the Harvard high school at 10 o'clock in the morning. Automobiles will be provided for transportation. Those wishing to attend are asked to get in communication with Mrs. C. M. Conkling at Glendale 3674-J before 5 o'clock Tuesday night, September 2. Each one attending is asked to bring lunch, cup and spoon. Coffee will be served by the club. Mothers are welcome to bring their children.

The day's program will include calisthenics and swimming. Games on the sand will also be enjoyed. Those wishing to join the club are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Paul Webb, Glendale 3559.

Dinner and Cards

An informal social affair was the dinner and card party given Sunday night by Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Evans at their home, 1157 Justin avenue, in the celebration of their fourteenth wedding anniversary. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock followed by an evening of five-hundred.

The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. William Siebert, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richter, Mrs. Minnie Wisman, Miss Ruth Vogel, Bill Siebert, Frank Evans, Stanley Vogel, all of Glendale, and Mrs. Herman Durand of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Enjoyable Party

The Y. L. I. society of the Holy Family Catholic church, entertained last night in the Knights of Columbus hall on East Lomita avenue, with a card party. There were twenty-five tables of five hundred. Mrs. J. Chapuis and Mrs. Dussery were awarded prizes for high score. Later in the evening a box of groceries was raffled off and a luncheon served. The committee in charge of the affair included Mrs. Jesse E. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Machoff and Regina Strother.

Receive Prizes

Mesdames C. C. Bowerman, N. F. Paine and M. O. Border held high score for bridge, and Mrs. A. R. Chappell won first prize for five-hundred at the card party given yesterday at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, under the auspices of the ways and means committee. Reports state that from the sixteen tables $25 was realized.

Those in charge of the affair were Mesdames Walter Jones, Ernest Carr, Fred Abbey and F. S. Card.

Happy Reunion

Mrs. W. F. Alexander and her mother, Mrs. Julia Hayes of 1214 South Maryland avenue, were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at a happy reunion of a group of old friends in charge of the informal social affair, and Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Hayes are hostesses to them once a year. On Wednesday there were twenty-eight present. They enjoyed a picnic lunch in the garden at the Alexander home.

Bridge Hostess

Mrs. T. H. Menk entertained yesterday afternoon with a delightful informal social affair at her home, 143 South Isabel street. During the afternoon bridge was enjoyed for which Mrs. R. Hall was awarded first prize and Mrs. J. Funk consolation prize. The guests were Mesdames Lloyd Wilson, O. Andersen, Loren Hyde, Owen Emery, Roy Hall, J. Funk and R. Breen.

Gives Luncheon

Mrs. Claude Case entertained with a luncheon yesterday at her home, 343 North Maryland avenue, commencing her sister, Mrs. George Allen of Taft. Covers were laid for Mrs. L. Hovis of Hollywood and Mrs. Case's mother and mother-in-law, Mrs. Emma Winters and Mrs. E. A. Case and Miss Beatrice Case, all of Glendale.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

LUTHER MARS
Luther Mars died Thursday, August 28, 1924, at 128 West Doran street, at the age of 68 years. He was a native of Pennsylvania. Surviving him are his wife, Elva Mars, two sons and one daughter.

His body will be shipped tomorrow by the L. G. Scovern Undertaking company to Minneapolis, Minn., for services and burial.

MRS. ADELIA D. WADE
Mrs. Adelia D. Wade, who had many Glendale friends, died Thursday, August 28, 1924, at her home, 5433 Virginia avenue, Hollywood, at the age of 73. She is survived by one son, Guy W. Wade.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. L. G. Scovern, director.

INTERMENTS
Interments made yesterday in Grand View Memorial park were Mrs. Marguerite Pechar, Burbank; Jennings J. Heidler, Glendale.

Leave For Trip

Mrs. T. G. Love and daughter, Miss Madeline Love of 220 West Elk street, left today for a two months' visit in the east. They will spend several weeks with relatives in Southern Illinois and a few days at Salt Lake City, while Miss Love will go on to New York City for a short visit and en route home will stop in Cleveland, Ohio, Washington, D. C., and Denver. Mrs. Love will come home via Wichita, Kan., and Arkansas, where she will visit with relatives. Miss Love will enter the University of California, Southern Branch, for a post-graduate course in February.

Informal Affair

Miss Doris Hollister entertained last night with an informal social affair at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hollister, 1145 Melrose avenue. The evening was devoted to dancing and an informal social time. At a late hour refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Alice Castile, Lois Strother, Earl Hendershot and Richard Cornwell.

Church Aid Meets

Women of the Central Christian church aid society spent yesterday at the church, sewing and doing other work included in their program of activities. There were forty women present.

EUROPE IN NEED OF CHRISTIANITY

That Is Rev. Clifford Cole's Report to Kiwanis Club Here After Tour

The hope of civilization in Europe and the rehabilitation of the nations lie in the principles of Christianity. Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, told members of the Kiwanis club at the meeting held today noon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Rev. Cole gave a brief report of his European trip, in which he visited many countries.

The United States should enter the League of Nations, or some form of organization following the principles laid down by the League of Nations, he said. "The world is looking to the United States, he said, and the nations of Europe feel that the hope of the world lies in America."

Sees Hope in Dawes Plan
The general prosperity of European countries is better than he expected to find, Mr. Cole said, with the exception of Scotland and Northern Ireland. When informed by The Glendale Evening News that the Dawes plan had been ratified today by the Reichstag in Berlin, Mr. Cole said that the approval given the plan by Germany would mean much to the entire world, and augurs much for the future.

Mr. Cole sailed from New York on June 7 for Glasgow, where he attended the World Sunday School convention. There were 1,500 delegates from America, he said, and 4,500 delegates from fifty-two nations of the world. He urged every American citizen to visit Washington to see how the government works. He told of sights and scenes seen along the route of his tour, describing places in Ireland, Scotland, London, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Members Tell of Trips
Park Arnold told of a vacation motor trip which took in Salt Lake City, Yellowstone Park, Jackson Hole country in Wyoming, Denver, Pike's Peak, the silver fields of Colorado, petrified forests of Arizona and the Grand Canyon. Harry Hall described a fishing trip of Mammoth Lake, and Mike Berman told of a trip to Boston and return.

President A. L. Baird announced the appointment of Fred Walton as chairman of the reception committee to succeed M. B. Towman, and the addition of the following to the committee: H. Parker, G. Boyd, Sidney Singer, Thomas Furst and P. J. Hayselden.

The committee on the annual Hallowkiwanis party, announced by President Baird, includes: William G. Bode, chairman; Ray Galvin, N. C. Hayhurst, D. H. Webb, R. F. Adams, H. G. MacBain, E. P. Hayward and H. F. Kuhn. The committee will meet Wednesday night to arrange plans for the party.

J. Arthur Myers led the community singing, with Mrs. George Lyons at the piano. The attendance prize, donated by Herbert Parker, was won by John Watson.

Artists Will Exhibit Pictures at Festival

TUJUNGA, Aug. 29.—An exhibition of paintings ranging in value from a few dollars to thousands of dollars will be held by the Sagebrushers' Art club of Tujunga during the Moon Festival, which opened today and will continue over Monday. MISSING GLENDALE HUMANITY HONEST GIRLS AT BURBANK OPTIMISTS LEARN

Helen Moore, 14, Returned to Home; Charges Against Grace Eden Dropped

Rarity of Crime Makes It News, H. V. Adams Tells Local Clubmen

A plea for a greater spirit of faith in present day conditions was voiced by H. V. Adams, esq., officer of the Glendale Savings Bank, at the luncheon of the Optimist club in the Alamy Inn at noon today, in which he declared that the average pessimist betrays a woeful ignorance of the realities of life when he claims that virtue has entirely gone out of every man and every thing.

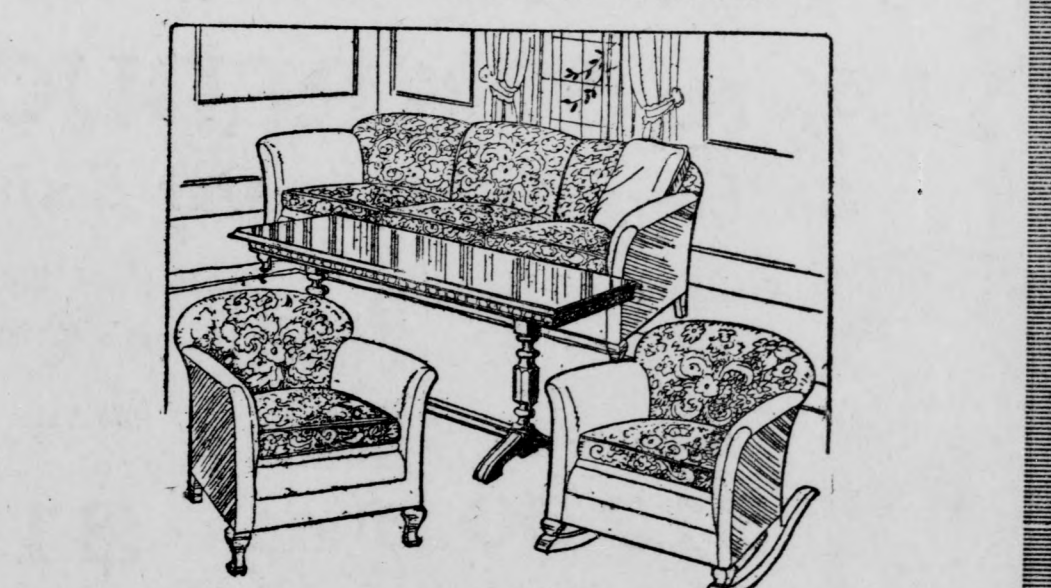

"Humanity in the mass," he declared, "is honest, as is conclusively shown by the fact the world's business today is done on credit. You never see goodness played up in the newspapers. If that were to happen there isn't a paper big enough to contain the good deeds that are done every day, whereas the fact that evil panion. She said she would remain there until her father arrived, which would be within a few days.

It was through Emmet A. Worley, proprietor of the Maxine studio at 419 East Broadway, that the girls were located. They had gone there several days ago to have their photographs made, preparatory to seeking movie work in Hollywood. Captain Loving and Lieutenant Royle arranged with Mr. Worley that he should notify them the moment the girls made any attempt to get the pictures.

Yesterday they sent another girl over from Burbank to get them. Mr. Worley notified the detectives, and this girl was followed. She went direct to the Santa Rosa hotel—and there the missing girls were found.

SLUGGING MATCH WON BY SERAPHS

Solons Defeated 16 to 11 as Angels Climb Out of Cellar Position

By C. R. SIMMONS
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—It was slugger's day at Washington Park yesterday. As the shadows lengthened and the beans at home were getting cold, a summary of the celebration showed that the Angels had outslugged Sacramento 16 to 11. The victory gives Los Angeles the advantage in the series, three games to two, but better yet, the Krugmen pulled themselves out of the cellar position.

The first five Angel batters disposed of Hughes, who started on the mound for the Senators. It sounded like the war days with a Stokes mortar in action. As fast as Hughes could furnish the ammunition—bang, bang and then some more bangs. The first four Seraphs banged for singles. Hood raised the sights and fired a homer out of the lot. Exit Hughes, who, in due time, was followed by Thompson, C. Canfield and W. Canfield. The Solons did their bit with the stick also, driving Payne to the showers after twirling two innings. He was replaced by Ramsay who held up the rest of the way.

Wally Hood and Koehler, Sacramento catcher, put on the features for the day. Koehler connected for a home run in the seventh with one man on, while Hood gathered a homer, a triple and a double, bringing in five runs for the home crew.

The Salt Lake Bees got the jump on San Francisco by getting three scores in the first frame, which drove Mitchell from the box. The final score was 3 to 1, which gives the Bees the lead in the series.

Oakland won over the Portland Beavers yesterday in a close game, 5 to 4. Foster hurled for the Oaks, while Rachac was charged with the defeat.

At Seattle, the Vernon Tigers suffered defeat at the hands of the Indians, 7 to 4. Dell, for Seattle, held the Essick crew to five hits.

Cincinnati drove another nail in Pittsburgh's coffin, winning 5 to 4.

SIX ROUNDS NOT ENOUGH FOR BOUT

Stribling-Berlenbach Battle Not Up to Expectations, Says Ring Expert

By FAIR PLAY
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The only thing that was settled in the Stribling-Berlenbach set-to was that it will take more than six rounds to determine which is the better boy. This pair can engage in as many six-round bouts as Benny Leonard and Johnny Dundee ever did at any distance, without satisfying the adherents of either boxer.

Heralded as a match of strength against skill, the bout was not up to expectations. There was plenty of strength, but little skill. Berlenbach proved once more that he can hit, but his boxing is very poor, and he has improved very little in this respect. Stribling can box and hit, but in his first meeting with Berlenbach he did not show that he wanted to do anything except keep out of his opponent's way. Perhaps he had a healthy respect for Paul's wallop and was satisfied to wrestle around the ring with him.

The first round was spent in both men testing their strength. In this session the young Georgian doubtless satisfied himself that he was as strong as Berlenbach. In the second and third rounds Stribling outsmarted his clumsy adversary. He made him miss by the proverbial mile, but instead of continuing the fight in that style he shifted his tactics in the fourth round and held on whenever it appeared that Paul might do some damage.

Piles Up Points
Young Stribling doubtless believed he had the match won and that all he needed to do was to keep out of the way of Berlenbach's sleep-producers. The judges thought otherwise and there is little doubt that the verdict of draw was reached because of Berlenbach's willingness to mix and take a chance to the last bell. On the whole, the match was disappointing. Too much was expected of both lads. Stribling is still a novice, but he will improve. Berlenbach is a harder hitter and always will be dangerous as long as he remains on his feet.

The Athletics showed no brotherly love for Boston, pushing them deeper into the cellar by winning twice, 1 to 0 and 9 to 3.

The Athletics returned to form and the Red Sox took a double-header, 6 to 3 and 8 to 7.

A new type of fibrous flooring material is claimed to have unusual fire-resistant qualities.

TAGGING THE BASES
The Senators rudely knocked the Yankees out of first place, despite two Ruth homers. An eight-run rally in the eighth shattered the Yankee morale and finished Penneck. Score, 11 to 6.

Vic Aldridge and Jacobs shuffled the cards thoroughly, the Cubs scoring enough runs to win in the first inning of each game, 5 to 2 and 8 to 3. Hornsby slumped a bit at bat, getting only four hits.

The Cardinals, however, were not to be put off by the Cubs. They won the second game, 5 to 2, and the series, 3 to 1.

The Athletics returned to form and the Red Sox took a double-header, 6 to 3 and 8 to 7.

BENNY MAY QUIT RING AFTER BOUT

Rumored That Victory Over Walker Would Lead to His Retirement

By FAIR PLAY
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—There is talk that if Benny Leonard wins the Walker battle he will retire, bearing with him the prestige of abandoning the ring at a time when he was the undefeated light and welterweight champion.

Laurels of this sort would materially add to his drawing power as a theatrical and screen attraction and this is the life upon which he is ambitious to enter.

If Walker were to win—as well he may—then Benny would still have his lightweight title intact and with no real contender in sight. But it is probable, in such event, he would not retire until he had done something to re-establish himself in the eyes of the sporting world.

Forfeit Ten Grand
Anyway, it does not look as though Benny will be able to keep his agreement to fight Dave Shade provided he wins over Mickey Walker. In fact, Leonard, himself, says that in such event, he guesses he will have to forfeit his ten thousand dollar forfeit to meet the Californian.

Think of it! Just tossing ten grand away. It's a grand life, that of a champion boxer. But Leonard's contracts for motion picture and theatrical work are so much more important financially that the forfeit money in question looks small, indeed.

This work will keep Leonard active well into 1925 and there will be no chance, it is said, of his sandwiching a fight or two in between engagements.

Fizzles in Films
Just why Benny should be counting so much on the screen is hard to figure. He has had one or two very costly experiences in that direction and found himself so definitely appraised as no rival at all of Doug Fairbanks and Valentino that only his fighting spirit probably has led him to make another stab.

The actor, someone else may be putting up the money. Which would make all the difference in the world, of course.

Speaking of pictures, they do say that Jack Dempsey, as a movie hero, is not turning "em away at the box offices of the film houses. Dempsey draws best when he appears in his normal and natural role as a bruiser. When he puts paint on his cheeks and rouge upon his lips and looks with languishing eyes upon the girl in the case, he fills everyone with a gnawing desire to hurl half portions of brick through the screen.

HELEN WILLS IS POPULAR PLAYER

Gameness, Sportsmanship And Skill of Californian Is Winning Favor

By WALTER CAMP
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Her skill, her gameness and, above all, her never-failing sportsmanship have made of little Miss Poker Face, sometimes known as Helen Wills, one of the most popular tennis champions America has ever had.

The grip she has obtained on the tennis public in her relatively brief career was strikingly evidenced at Longwood. With all its chivalry of sportsmanship, the crowd at Longwood could not help showing that it wanted Miss Wills and Vinnie Richards to win those mixed doubles.

When, after losing the first set to the Tilden-Mallory combination, the pair came back and won the two straight sets necessary for the title, everyone wanted to get down out of the stands and pat Miss Wills on the back, or do something equally demonstrative.

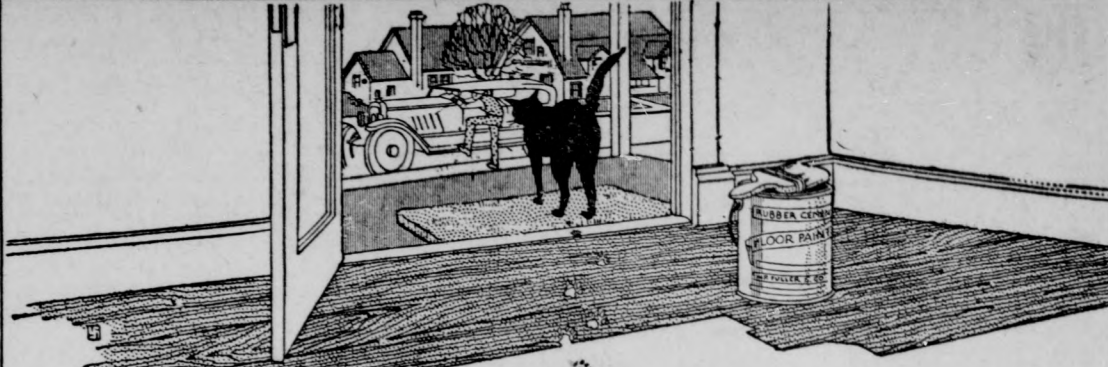

Another Girl Popular
Another young woman tennis player who, like Miss Wills, hails from California, has captured the fancy of the eastern followers of the sport. She is 15-year-old Helen Jacobs, who went through the Longwood tournament only to be beaten by Miss Goss in the finals.

Miss Jacobs has a real tennis future before her. She has the striking ability and even playing upon turf courts, with which she is unfamiliar, she made a fine showing. In another year she will threaten most of our women players. But she seems to have difficulty with her breath at times, which is extraordinary in a school girl of her years and strength.

use Rubber Cement Floor Paint

IT'S just like a coat of enamel—hard, bright, glossy, elastic. Every housewife wants clean, sanitary, spic-and-span floors, even though they may not be hardwood. Rubber Cement Floor Paint makes that easily possible.

Applied to soft-wood floors, Rubber Cement Floor Paint withstands an unbelievable amount of abuse—scuffing and pounding of many feet, moving of chairs and furniture, spilling of liquids. Your floor withstands all these. It is easily cleaned and frequent washing does not injure the color or gloss.

This is because Rubber Cement Floor Paint is a combination of very high grade varnish and just enough pigment to produce the color desired, and give it "hiding" quality. Thus it forms a very tough, elastic film which dries overnight and lasts long. There are 14 colors to choose from.

Plan now to re-paint your soft-wood floors with Rubber Cement Floor Paint, one of the most widely used and popular Fuller Products.

HARRIS SITTING ON TOP OF WORLD

'Boy Manager' Washington Senators Elated When Team Takes Game

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Stanley Harris, "boy manager" of the Washington Senators, was sitting on top of the world today, his team in first place and ready to engage the world's champion Yankees in another battle this afternoon. Only half a game separated the teams today, and in order to maintain their lead, the Senators must win at least two more games of the series.

The advance to first place was made over the shattered remnants of two world's series stars of a year ago, Sam Jones and Herbert Pennock. Neither of them displayed any aptitude for stopping an avalanche of hits that scored eight runs for the capital club in a wild eighth inning rally. Al Mammaux, former Pittsburgh and Another world's series veteran, Joe Bush, was due to take up the burden for the Yankees this afternoon, and the probability was that either Zahniser or Marberry would oppose him. The Yankees face the prospect of an afternoon with Walter Johnson, who recently pitched a seven-inning no-hit game against St. Louis. Waite Hoyt will probably take a fling at the third game for the Yankees.

The White Sox made it two wins out of 16 starts by nosing out Cleveland in the second game of a doubleheader, 7 to 6, in the tenth inning. The Indians scalped them in the first game, 7 to 0.

SOUTHLAND WINS VISITOR'S PRAISE

Milwaukee Paper Publishes Booster Article From Former Mayor

Glendaleans will be interested in learning that there is at least one newspaper in the middle west which is not averse to publishing actual facts concerning California's beauty and wonderful climate. This is evidenced by a clipping from the Milwaukee Sentinel received by Mrs. P. G. Morgan of 1316 East California avenue, which gave a letter written by David S. Rose to his brother Elks of Milwaukee. Mr. Rose, the five times mayor of Milwaukee, left there early this summer for California where he is now making his permanent home. The letter was written from Oceanside, Cal., on August 10. The letter in part, reads as follows:

"This is a glorious day, warm in the sun, cool in the shade, with the sound of the great Pacific in endless requiem to remind me that I am far away from the ancient moorings in environment strange to me. The perfectly constructed highways, stretched between the Mexican border and the northern boundary of California, thence on to Portland and Seattle, a tortuous, serpentine trail through magnificent valleys and over somber, majestic mountains, is lined with tourists traveling to and fro.

Air Like Elixir
"The balm of the air is as sweetly soft as is the breath of the mother on the cheek of the babe. It is an elixir to soothe nerves, a tonic to drooping spirits, a constant benediction direct from the throne of purity. "The territory south of Los Angeles, clear on to San Diego, is wondrously beautiful, defying word description or artist's brush. "The California bungalows, typical architecture of this region hidden behind ever-blooming flower-vines, with wide-spreading verandas clothed in comforting shadows, line the way from Los Angeles to Santa Ana, and every now and then one passes a fruit market loaded with the products of tree and soil.

Majestic Mountains
"And back behind these constantly recurring scenes of plebeianness and peacefulness and happiness, always may be seen the grizzled old mountains, brown and bare, and threatening with their beetling promontories, and towers and jumbled crags, lining the valleys along their eastern side as though the massive piles of granite that raise their peaks up to kiss the floating clouds. "Capistrano! Inland from the sea by scarcely a score of miles, in a sinuous valley generously fertile, was the city of the angels, those old missions, surmounted by the cross, emblem of a faith that never dies.

Heldup Reported to Police by L. A. Man
F. G. Meeks of Los Angeles reports an attempted holdup at 10:30 o'clock last night, on the continuation of York boulevard leading into Adams street. Officers from the Glendale police department were dispatched to the scene, but failed to locate any suspicious characters.

OPALS GAIN FAVOR
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Opals have suddenly come into greater favor than for several years. One exclusive shop is showing beautiful earrings of green black opals, with brooch and bracelets to match.

Has Narrow Escape In Motor Accident
The many friends of Miss Nyda Dana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dana of 1318 North Louise street, will be sorry to learn she was quite seriously injured Monday night, when she narrowly escaped death when an automobile ran over her at Sunset boulevard near Beaudry avenue. Miss Dana and her sister, Miss Ruth Dana, were on their way home from work when the accident occurred. Miss Dana received numerous cuts, bruises and abrasions, her right side receiving the most serious injuries. No bones were broken and so far no complications have set in, it was reported.

Attends Convention of Convention Committee
Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty board, yesterday attended the meeting of the convention committee that was held in Los Angeles, when the plans for the program that is to be presented during the convention of the state realtors in Pasadena, October 8 to 11, were further advanced, and when an official design for the badge was adopted.

That's All
The Peaceful Pacific
Awaiting The Verdict
Glendale Steps High
Candidates To Speak
By Gil A. Cowan

Balboa had it right when he sighted the great body of still water and dubbed it the Pacific ocean, for, compared with the Atlantic, it is a most peaceable pond.

The passing week has seen storms which have swept shipping along the eastern seaboard in a most catastrophic manner. Great liners were washed by waves eighty feet high, it is reported.

One skipper of a steamer was swept overboard. Many other seamen lost their lives battling the storm, while injuries mount into the hundreds. In other words, a wild time was had by all, including beach residents who had to flee for their lives.

But on the western shores serenity exists in the sunlit skies. Time, a few storms visit the coast, but sailors have little fear of them. And there are not half the jagged reefs or fogs or bars to interfere with coastal shipping. All of which may mean but little to Glendale, other than it is quite safe to take a trip on the ocean out here.

Before a "friendly" judge the defendants in the Chicago boy slaying case expected to escape with their lives. That was the testimony of a witness and the crux of a dispute yesterday involving the district attorney and Judge Caverly.

The district attorney was perfectly justified in making the point the way it was intended, but the judge became quite wrathful and charged intimidation.

He has also ordered guards to take precautions on September 10, when sentence will be pronounced.

Perhaps the judge believes, as the writer does, that there is no fitting punishment for these young criminals, that hanging them would be too lenient, and yet for the good of society they should be forever banished, even if it costs them their lives.

Leopold and Loeb are not fit for human society. Whether it is their own fault is a matter of question. Lepers cannot be blamed for their physical condition. Likewise, youthful scions of wealth whose mentalities crack under the strain of education and life cannot be blamed for their perversion, perhaps.

Coming, as they do, from one of the oldest civilized races on earth; representing, as they do, the power of wealth; exhibiting, as they do, the utmost in education, these two boys stand before the world as the accusing fingers. They are human warnings of the tendency of the times.

Glendale is "stepping high" in building this year. It is predicted today that the permits for August, the month of the year, again will soar over the million mark.

This city is a pace-maker. It is a prodigy. Yes, it excels them all. Those who have invested in Glendale's future will find profit every hand. It is the "best seller." It is going to hang out the "S. R. O." sign before many years because there is only so much of Glendale, and that's all.

The real estate market is going to speed up here shortly and leave those who are procrastinating today wiping the dust from their eyes. Factors for the making of a greater Glendale are just beginning to culminate, as it were. So far the growth has been due principally to the overgrowth of Los Angeles. Now Glendale is going "on its own."

Eyes now center on the national political campaign. President Coolidge goes into action today with a speech before the World Fraternal Congress. Dawes, Davis, La Follette, Wheeler and Oklahoma Jack Walton also are going to provide page one copy for the newspapers.

It is rather illuminating to learn that the labor vote will not fall in behind La Follette. It is interesting to see the support of the labor repudiated and the issues based on policy rather than prejudice. And it is good to know that economic conditions are ideal for prosperity.

Oil Production In Gulf Fields Lower
HOUSTON, Aug. 29.—The average daily oil production of the Gulf Coast and South Texas oil fields in the last week was 120,465 barrels, a drop of 920. Twenty producing wells were completed in the coastal field.

SOFT FELT HAT
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A hat of very soft felt, made with a soft high crown and an upturned brim of irregular shape, is one of the new models shown here. It is a large hat and by reason of its softness it is universally becoming.

SKIRTS ARE SHORTER
PARIS, Aug. 29.—Skirts are much shorter. But the really smart Parisienne now does not wear her skirts knee high. Today she wears a frock that comes to little less than midway between ankle and knee.

It is proposed to surround Chicago's sewer disposal plants with parks and golf courses.

LT. COL. RICHMOND GOES TO KANSAS

Army Man and Family Hope
They May Return Here
When He Retires

Lieut. Col. H. R. Richmond, a cavalry officer of the United States army who for the last two and one-half years has been living with his family at 340 North Orange street, left at 10:50 o'clock this morning, via the Union Pacific, for Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for duty with the command and General Staff college of that post. With him went Mrs. Richmond and their six children, the Misses Ova Frances, Polly, Margaret, Bertha, and their two boys, Russell and Frank.

Lieut. Col. Richmond during his residence in Glendale has been on duty with the organized reserves of Southern California, with executive offices in the Detweiler building, Los Angeles. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, enlisting in 1898 as a captain with the 1st Tennessee volunteers. He has been in the service twenty-six years.

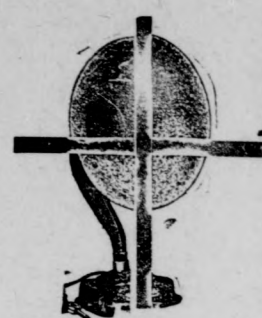

To Stop at Fort Riley
The party will stop off at Fort Riley, Kan., where they will visit a married daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Richmond. It is with regret they leave Glendale, where they state that they have been very happy during the past two and one-half years.

"When I retire from the army," said Lieut. Col. Richmond, "it is my ambition to bring my family back to Glendale. I shall never forget these beautiful hills."

Call Meeting of Bond Committee Wednesday

D. H. Smith, general chairman of the Citizens' Bond committee, has called a meeting of that organization for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning in the auditorium of the Harvard high school. It is expected that plans for an intensive campaign for the various bond issues suggested by the committee, will be made at this meeting.

Members of the committee are representatives of the service and civic clubs of the city, appointed at the suggestion of city officials, to investigate and report upon various civic improvements needed. The committee recommended to the City Council ten bond issues totaling $1,705,973. Mrs. Frank Weller, representing the Tuesday Afternoon club, who acted as secretary at previous meetings, will be absent from the city. P. J. Hayselden, representing the Chamber of Commerce, will be acting secretary.
